PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S MOTHER IS CRITICALLY ILL

SENATE MAY SEEK $4,500,000,000 CUT

Republicans May Abandon Efforts To Agree With House On Slash

ASSERT INCOME TAX CUT WOULD HELP EMPLOYMENT

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(AP)—Senate Republicans may abandon efforts to agree with the house on how much to cut President Truman's budget, Senator Taft (R—Ohio) said today, and work toward a $4,500,000,000 savings goal.

Taft, who heads the senate republican policy committee, said that if no compromise is reached with the house on its $6,000,000,000 savings proposal, the senate republicans will go ahead on the theory that the president's budget can be whittled to $33,000,000,000 and try to pass a tax bill which will take a net of $3,200,000,000 out of the next fiscal year's expected revenues.

The republican majority on the senate finance committee issued a report on the tax bill today saying that reduction of individual income taxes would help maintain "the existing high levels of employment and output."

The report said government revenues now are booming. It estimated a surplus of $2,300,000,000 for the year ending June 30, as compared to a $1,250,000,000 surplus prediction by President Truman a month ago.

Taft, while he did not foreclose further conferences with house leaders, told a reporter he is not inclined to accept any increase in the amount the senate voted to attempt to trim from the president's $37,500,000,000 spending estimates for the year beginning July 1.

While some leaders of the house are said to have conceded that a $6,000,000,000 cut might be too high, they are unwilling to accept the lower senate figure.

In addition, the senate pledged a minimum payment of $2,600,000,000 on the national debt, a promise not paralelled by the house.

"If the two houses don't get together now," Taft remarked, "we should at least be able to agree at the end of congress, when all of the appropriation bills are in and we know just how much the actual expenditures are going to be."

Chairman Millikan (R—Colo) of the senate finance committee said he intends to move Monday to bring the tax bill before the senate. While democrats are expected to agree to that move, they then will offer a motion to postpone action on the bill until June 10, when some of the larger appropriations measures will have cleared the committees of both houses.

Millikin expressed confidence of sufficient support to force immediate consideration of the measure, which would reduce individual income taxes in a range from 30 per cent in the lowest brackets to 10.5 per cent in the highest.

NAZIS WANTED SLY TRUCE WITH RUSSIA

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(AP)—The Nazis hoped for an armistice with Russia in 1943 which would have been kept secret from the western Allies and in which the Soviets would have continued to draw lend-lease from the United States.

This sly but unsuccessful move by Hitler came to light tonight in captured German naval documents which also disclosed:

1. Bombing of the United States with a new high-speed, long-range six-engine plane was considered but was abandoned in July, 1943, "because the few airplanes which could get there would be of no significance but would only arouse the will to resist in the population."

2. Adm. Karl Donetz, as commander in chief of the navy, wanted to use "the new weapon of the air force," aparently the V-1 robot bomb or the V-2 rocket, to attack Allied shipping at Gibraltar in the summer of 1943. He proposed to launch them from the area of Marseilles, France. But Hitler vetoed the plan because of "the risk that some of the new weapons might fall on land at Gibraltar and that the British will find out what they are." It was not until the following year that they were loosed at London.

The official German naval documents, including intelligence reports and records of conferences Hitler held in 1943 with his top naval commanders and others, were released simultaneously tonight by the navy department here and the British admiralty in London.

The reference to the plan for a Russian armistice did not make clear whether it actually had been submitted to the Soviets. It was mentioned in the minutes of a conference which Hitler held with his commanders July 17-18, 1943, under the heading, "grand strategy."

Hitler himself was looking for "an unexpected way out" to present itself, as he declared wistfully, it had many times in history.

The situation was "perilous," he admitted, but hoped that the Allies would fall out among themselves the nearer they got to success.

Battleship Oklahoma Sinks While In Tow

Battleship Thwarts Mainland Junkyard For Which She Was Bound

PEARL HARBOR, May 17.—(AP)—The tragic battleship Oklahoma, raised from a shallow grave after the Japanese assault on Pearl Harbor, sank quietly in mid-Pacific today, thwarting the mainland junkyard for which she was bound.

The venerable warship, symbol of American sorrow and pride, went down without a soul on board at 1:40 a. m. (7:10 a. m., Eastern Standard Time), 540 miles northeast of Pearl Harbor.

One week ago today she had left in tow of the tugs Monarch and Hercules, and was due in San Francisco bay on Memorial Day.

The hull was shipshape when she left. Suddenly and inexplicably she began to list heavily late yesterday.

Last night Captain Kelly Sprague of the Hercules radioed that waves were washing over the Oklahoma's desolate decks—long since stripped of guns and superstructure. He was ordered to head back for Pearl Harbor, but a little later—as if determined to escape an ignominous fate on the scrap heap—the Oklahoma parted the tow lines and plunged toward the bottom of the ocean—three miles down.

Seamen compared her end with that of the famous British battleship Warspite, which on April 23 was wrecked on the Cornish coast, also while being towed toward a breaker's yard.

The tugs stood by until daybreak, but so cleanly had the Oklahoma died

LIFER IS GIVEN HOPE OF LIBERTY

Granted New Trial By Supreme Court After Serving 15 Years

ADRIAN, Mich., May 17.—(AP)—The dark mist of 15 grim years began to lift from Rene De Meerleer's vision today as he came back from a lifer's cell to the Lenawee County circuit court.

Before him as he walked hesitantly into the room was Judge G. Arthur Rathbun whose crisp words a decade and a half ago sent De Meerleer behind prison bars, presumably for life.

Before him also, if he noticed, was the image of a boy 17 who entered the same courtroom on a spring day exactly 15 years ago Friday, a slim youth who, by his own admittance, shot down a gasoline station attendant in a holdup attempt.

The boy of 17 was gone forever and in his stead, facing Judge Rathbun today, was a husky, dark-haired man of 31, dressed in a neat dark suit, white shirt and polka dot tie, granted a new trial by the United States Supreme court.

Judge Rathbun, himself aged in the long interval, cleared his throat and began the legal formalities of the new arraignment, first step toward retrial.

The prisoner clenched and unclenched his fists nervously but said nothing.

Attorney Joseph Louissella addressed the court. Louissella became interested in his case three years ago when he met De Meerleer during a visit to the state prison of southern Michigan at Jackson.

He learned that on May 16, 1932, De Meerleer and Virgil Scott, both 17, were charged with the murder of George Brown, 65, during a holdup near here.

Both pleaded guilty, appeared in court and were sentenced for life in a single day.

STATE RESTS IN LYNCHING TRIAL

Defense Motions For Acquittal Of 10 Taken Under Advisement

GREENVILLE, S. C., May 17.—(AP)—The state rested its case today against 31 white men accused of lynching a South Carolina Negro, and Circuit Judge J. Robert Martin, Jr., took under advisement defense motions for directed acquittal of ten defendants.

Judge Martin said he would consider the applications over the weekend, and announce his decision Monday when he reconvenes Greenville county's criminal court.

The defense moved for acquittal of five defendants who were implicated by self-acknowledged members of the lynch mob, but who themselves refused to make statements to police and federal agents. These are Woodrow Wilson Clardy, identified by co-defendants as driver of the car which took Negro Willie Earle to his death last Feb. 17; Ernest Stokes, identified by others as the man who extracted an alleged confession that the Negro had stabbed a white taxi-driver; and Sam D. Stewart, Vardry McBee Morris and Earl Martin.

The defense also asked direct acquittal on all counts of John B. Marchant and James Arthur Fowler. Additionally, a directed acquittal was asked on two counts—murder and accessory after the fact—of Willie Eugene Bishop, Howard Thompson, and W. D. Oakley. The defense claimed the state failed to link them properly with the murder.

Martin and Marchant are members of wealthy South Carolina families. Oakley is a Greenville cafe operator. All other defendants are taxi drivers.

The state accused all 31 of murder and of conspiracy to murder in connection with the brutal lynching of Earle. The Negro was taken from the county jail in adjoining Pickens county, questioned on a lonely roadside by the lynchers, and then taken to a spot near an old slaughterhouse where he was beaten, knifed and finally shot to death.

Twenty-six of the 31 defendants made statements to police authorities at the time of their arrest, implicating themselves and others in the crime. The defense opposed introduction of these statements as evidence, arguing

SWAYZE POOL IS TO BE OPENED

Ninth Season Will Be Initiated Here; Has Fine Safety Record

The Swayze natatorium will be opened to the public today for the ninth successive season, stated C. R. Tidwell, commissioner of streets and parks.

He states that the pool has been put in perfect condition and will be under the same management that has been in charge in past seasons.

This is one of the most popular and finely equipped places for recreation provided by any city the size of Monroe, and its popularity has been shown by the large number who always avail themselves of the opportunity it offers.

Because of the cooperation of the public, a safety record that is highly creditable has been preserved through the years and the commissioner states that he is assured that the public will ever continue such assistance.

UNION AND TENSAS DEPUTIES SELECTED FOR F. B. I. ACADEMY

Jurg G. Stewart, Farmerville, and W. Mack Seaman, Waterproof, deputy sheriffs of Union and Tensas parish, respectively, have been selected to attend the thirty-eighth session of the FBI National Academy, beginning July 14.

The 12-week course will entail intensive training in law enforcement procedures with accent on investigative and legal aspects, C. E. Weeks, special agent in charge of the New Orleans office of the FBI, in announcing the appointments.

Stewart, a 28-year-old war veteran of World War II, has been with the Union parish sheriff's department since George Miller Edwards took office as sheriff in May 1946. The parish-wide crackdown on bootlegging last summer, resulting in over 30 indictments, was consummated largely through his efforts.

A native of Farmerville, Stewart formerly operated a cafe there and for a while worked in a hardware store. Later, before entering the army, he served with the Louisiana state police.

Seaman is now in his second year as deputy sheriff of Tensas. Now 42, he worked with the Army Camp bus service in Alexandria for four and a half years before joining Sheriff Coleman's force, and before that was employed as an agent of the Pan-American petroleum corporation. He was born in Waterproof and still maintains his residence there.

Weeks also pointed out that the academy, known as the West Point of law enforcement, will observe its 12th anniversary this July 21. Inaugurated in July 1935 by FBI director J. Edgar Hoover, the Academy has been attended by many of the nation's outstanding investigators as well as by representatives from law enforcement agencies throughout the world. To date 1,559 specially chosen officers have been graduated from the academy.

During the early 1930's the need for efficient law enforcement was spotlighted by an appalling increase in major crimes throughout the country.

THINKS TRUMAN WILL SIGN BILL

Ellender Predicts Senate Labor Measure To Be Adopted, Okayed

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(AP)—Senator Ellender (D-La) predicted today that the labor disputes legislation finally laid before President Truman will be almost exactly the same as the Senate bill and that the chief executive will sign it.

"If he doesn't, watch his popularity go down," Ellender told a reporter.

Ellender is a member of the Conference committee engaged in ironing out differences between the separate bills passd by the House and Senate.

The House measure contains more curbs on the union than the Senate bill. Some senators have expressed the opinion that Mr. Truman would veto even the Senate version.

In predicting a final draft very close to the Senate bill, Ellender noted that Rep. Hartley (R-NJ), head of the House conferees, already has said he is willing to drop two major union curbs voted by the House in order to get a bill Congress would pass over a veto.

These are a ban on nearly all industry-wide bargaining and an authorization for private employers to seek injunctions against jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts.

Ellender said the conferees will be "over the hump" when they get rid of these provisions. They resume discussions Monday.

Ellender described the differences

STEALS MOTHER'S $15,000 SAVINGS

PONTIAC, Mich., May 17.—(AP)—Three young men reached the end of the trail today after a brief whirl of new cars, expensive parties and lavish hotel suites financed, police said, with $15,000 stolen from the mother of one of the youths.

Pontiac police said the 53-year-old mother, Mrs. Victoria Cisek, had attempted suicide after her son, Joseph Luasiewicz, or Lukas, 22, disappeared April 18 with her life savings.

Lukas, together with Roy Forslund, 22, of Alpha, Mich., and Nick Poulos, 21, of Milwaukee, Wis., was arrested at Erie, Mich., Thursday and returned here today for questioning. They were held on charges of carrying concealed weapons.

State Police Sgt. Carl Saim said Lucas admitted stealing the money from his mother and spending $11,000 of it on two new automobiles, a round of parties and entertainment in expensive hotel rooms, and new clothes.

The officer said the trio had only $3,590 left when they were captured. A filling station attendant called police when he noticed the three wearing guns in their belts.

The four-week spending spree started at Clarkston, Mich., Seim said, where Lukas related he met Forslund. The pair headed for Chicago and further revels, then went to Milwaukee, where Poulos joined the party.

They came back to Detroit Thursday to swap their new car for a bigger model and at the time of their arrest told police they were headed for Baltimore and eventually Florida.

FIVE-YEAR PLANE PROGRAM URGED

American Aviation Pictured As 'Slowly Bleeding To Death'

CLEAR-CUT GOVERNMENT POLICY DECLARED NEEDED

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(AP)—A picture of an American aviation industry "slowly bleeding to death" and in urgent need of a five-year production program backed up by a definite government policy was drawn for senators today by representatives of the industry.

They told of a "financial crisis" in the industry because of sharp contraction of production and of a great need for long-range planning in research and development if Britain and Russia are not to outstrip the United States in technical advances and number of planes.

The group appeared before a senate commerce subcommittee to endorse a bill by Chairman Brewster (R—Me) to create a national air policy board composed of the secretaries of state, war, navy and commerce and two members each from the senate and house.

Oliver P. Echols, president of the aircraft industries association and a former major general of the air forces, said the nation is not maintaining "a minimum industry capable of rapid expansion in an emergency."

He reported only 1,330 military planes were turned out last year compared with a minimum annual output of 3,000 recommended by the government's air coordinating committee.

Without a five-year program established by law governing procurement practices and policies, he added, it will be impossible for the armed services "to buy modern aircraft and flying missiles efficiently and economically under the legislation adopted 20 years ago."

He also urged a "healthy commercial aviation" program as an aid in maintaining the aircraft manufacturing industry. This, he said, should include development of new airlines and encouragement of air freight.

He said Russia had continued her wartime plane production, while output in the U. S. dropped off precipitately beginning with 1944.

Glenn L. Martin, Baltimore plane manufacturer, said the nation's airpower "is declining rapidly" and as Conventions are in the air for Monroe with three large ones slated in close proximity. Today the Louisiana State Horticultural Association is opening a three-day convention and there will be, it is said, as many as 400 delegates who will fill a large majority of rooms in local hotels. On Saturday, May 24, the Knights of Columbus will open a three-day session here and not to be outdone by these groups, the Knights of Pythias will be in session here May 25 and 26. Monroe is always delighted to play the role of host and this month already has entertained the Fifth District Medical Association, the Louisiana Press Association and the past week was host to the Kiwanis Clubs of 11 cities of the local area. The Twin Cities are increasingly popular for conventions and there is no better advertisement for a community than is thus to be obtained. Incidentally we read the other day that Little Rock has had 40 conventions to entertain this month.

Executive Flies To Parent's Side

Ignores Driving Rain And Wind And Travels To Modest Missouri Cottage; Learns Her Heart Is Growing Weaker

GRANDVIEW, Mo., May 17.—(AP)—President Truman said tonight that his 94-year-old mother, Mrs. Martha E. Truman, "is making a terrific uphill fight" in her battle for life.

The president after a day at the bedside of his mother here, walked into the hotel Muehlebach at Kansas City at 9 p. m. (C.S.T.) with a solemn face.

His mother, he told reporters, is "improving," and added that "I wouldn't be here if there weren't some improvement."

The president looked worn and tired as reporters greeted him at the entrance to the Kansas City hotel.

GRANDVIEW, Mo., May 17.—(AP)—Mrs. Martha E. Truman, heartened by her presidential son's presence at her bedside, was reported "much better" tonight after suffering a relapse in the early morning hours.

"Mother Truman is stronger, she is talking stronger and feeling much better," Brig. Gen. Wallace H. Graham, the president's personal physician, told reporters through Press Secretary Charles G. Ross.

The pulse of the 94-year-old president's mother was stronger tonight as she fought to recover strength lost in a setback to her recuperation from a fractured right hip. The injury was received during a fall in mid-February, the third fracture for the peppery little lady in recent years.

President Truman was informed by telephone at 5:15 a. m. (C.S.T.) that his mother was in a grave condition. Two and a half hours later he took off from the Washington airport in his private plane," the Sacred Cow," ignoring a driving rainstorm, wind and an official warning that tornadoes might develop near his landing field.

He summoned two of his secretaries, Charles G. Ross and Matthew J. Connelly, for the four-hour and forty-five minute flight to Grandview.

Joining his brother, J. Vivian Truman, who operates the family farm nearby, and his sister, Miss Mary Jane Truman, the chief executive remained with his mother throughout the day except for trips to his brother's home for lunch and dinner.

The president planned to remain with his mother until 10 o'clock (C.S.T.) and then return to his Kansas City hotel if there was no change in her condition.

Just before General Graham left for the evening meal, he said his elderly patient was feeling much better and was able to eat a soft boiled egg for supper along with her regular special protein mixture.

"Her mind is perfectly clear," Ross said Graham told him. "And while she slept intermittently throughout the day, she slept restfully, and on four or five occasions she was able to talk to the president."

Mrs. Truman, Ross said, is fully aware of the seriousness of her condition, resulting from what General Graham called a "tired heart."

Mr. Truman cancelled plans for a White House ceremony at 9:15 a. m. (E.S.T.) Monday for the signing of the $400,000,000 Greek-Turkish aid bill in order to be with his mother. He has 10 days in which to sign it after it reaches him.

Immediately after landing in his private plane, the Sacred Cow, the president hurried to his mother's bedside carrying a box of red roses and white snap dragons. Presidential Press

PHONE WALKOUT FLARES UP ANEW

Equipment Installation Men Call For Reinforced Picket Lines

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(AP)—The national telephone strike, which had appeared swiftly for a patchwork settlement, flared anew on a country-wide scale tonight with an order for reinforced picket lines of equipment installation men.

The National Association of Communications Equipment Workers accused the Western Electric Company of making an "open declaration of war" and of "union busting" tactics. It directed its members to man again the picket lines that had been abandoned over a great part of the country and called for "the aid of all legitimate labor unions in our struggle."

"We already have assurance that such aid will be forthcoming," George Weaver, president of the union, said in a statement. "Our battle against Bell system tyranny is the battle of all labor."

What Weaver called an "impasse" in negotiations here arose, he said, over a combination of proposals from the company for a "Fish hook no-strike clause" and for wage provisions below the "pattern" of recent Bell system settlements.

Western Electric is the Bell system's manufacturer and supplier. The A. C. E. W. represents about 20,000 men who install exchange equipment. The local companies handle installations of individual telephone sets.

Tonight's development reversed an apparent trend toward settlement set earlier in the day with an agreement for the 42,000 workers of Southern Bell Telephone Company, the system's biggest operating unit, to go back to work in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Missouri and Kansas. They got a $1.42 weekly pay raise.

That left about 77,000, including some 55,000 Western Electric workers, still on strike out of about 340,000 who walked out April 7. An additional 90,000 by National Federation of Telephone Workers estimate, however, still were idle though they had settled their disputes. They would not cross the picket lines of unions still on strike.

Tonight the strikers' ranks were thinned further by announcement of a settlement with 15,000 employes of the Ohio Bell Telephone Company. Their pact calls for a basic wage increase of $4 a week, with 95 to 97

BROOKS ELECTED OIL SCOUT HEAD

NEW ORLEANS, May 17.—(AP)—Howard R. Brooks, Chief oil scout for Magnolia Petroleum company, Dallas, Tex., was elected president of the National Oil Scouts and Landmen's Association at conclusion of its three-day convention here today.

Brooks succeeds S. S. Stinson, of Humble Oil and Refining company, Midland, Tex., who becomes a member of the executive board.

Also elected were Wiley Wiggins, The Atlantic Refining Company, Tyler, Tex., first vice-president; Fred Jackson, Phillips Petroleum Company, Shawnee, Okla.,; second vice-president; R. L. Denton, Magnolia Pipe Line Company, Midland, Tex., third vice-president; Ray E. Stevens, Shell Oil Company, Jackson, Miss., secretary-treasurer; Wayne Ferguson, Shell Oil Company, Wichita Falls, Tex., Editor-in-chief of the Associations' yearbook.

Active at the annual gathering was Ben R. Nash, 67-year-old oil scout for Houston Oil Company of Texas and reputed to be one of the oldest scouts in the business.

Nash told many a tale of adventures in his 38 years of scouting and "spying" on drilling operations of competitive companies. He said he has no intention of retiring.

"In the old days when you walked up to the drilling rig, the men would shut down the motors and come out to see what you wanted," Nash said.

"If you couldn't show them you were a better man than they were, they woul dthrow you into the slush (mud) pit."

The grey but powerfully-framed veteran admitted he had never been thrown in.

The victories of Sandoz and Miss Bradford make eight scholarships in a row for Byrd high school, which includes the essay contest each year as a part of its curriculum in history and literature, a plan all high schools have been urged to follow.

The Ewing scholarships are awarded annually in memory of the late Colonel Robert Ewing, editor and publisher of the New Orleans States at the time of his death in 1931. He was the father of John D. SUPERINTENDENTS BARRED FROM FUND

ALEXANDRIA, La., May 17.—(AP)—A ruling by John E. Coxe, state superintendent of education, excluding superintendents and other supervisory employes of the public school system from participating in the 90 per cent of the funds appropriated to teachers' pay increases was announced today to the classroom teachers section of the Louisiana Teachers Association in session at Bolton High School here.

The opinion was given in a letter from Coxe to Jack L. Harper, Ruston, president of the Lincoln Parish Teachers Association, who made the announcement.

TOWN HALL TO HEAR LECTURE

Andre Michalopoulos To Give Address On 'Lessons Of Past'

Andre Michalopoulos, former member of the Greek cabinet, and noted over the world as a brilliant diplomat, will be the Town Hall speaker Monday at 8 p. m. Again it will be necessary to hold the lecture in the Northeast Junior College auditorium.

Because of the phone strike and delays that were unavoidable, the membership campaign of Town Hall for the season of 1947-1948 has been extended to include Monday night's lecture and those who have not secured season tickets can do so Monday at the door but that will positively close the sale, states President Ivy Jordan.

"Lessons Of The Past" will be the theme of the address. Incidentally this speaker has appeared here before in Town Hall and this is a return request engagement.

Mr. Michakopoulos will give in his talk an intimate view of Greek, Roman and European history as applied to present day problems and will relate it, as he sees it, to present and future questions of domestic and world policy.

In giving members the results of his study, the speaker will have the advantage of knowing many of the world's economic and political leaders and will thus be able to take into account the human element of present day history.

A person can get a full length image of himself in a mirror half his height.

RAPE TRY TRIAL SET THIS WEEK

Case Against B. A. Fisher To Start In District Criminal Court Tuesday

Highlighting the second week of the spring term of the fourth district criminal court here this week will be the trial Tuesday of B. A. Fisher, accused of attempted rape.

Fisher, a boilermaker from Amarillo, Texas, was arrested here April 4 after a Monroe girl charged that he had attempted to attack her near Moon Lake, north of Monroe, as she was on her way home.

The girl maintained that Fisher had offered her a ride home, and mistaking him for a friend of the family, she had been half way in his car when she realized her error and tried to get out.

A struggle followed, she reported, and her alleged assailant pulled a gun from the glove compartment of the car, ordered her to be quiet. As the car started to cross the nearby levee, she leaped out and ran away.

Provided with the license number, police spotted the car across from headquarters a short time after they had been informed of the episode, and told that it belonged to Fisher, who was then at the Labor Temple. He was arrested a few minutes later and held in the parish jail on charge of attempted rape.

Other cases on the docket for this week include those against Victor and Vonople, charged together with aggravated battery, and Vonople Miller, alone, charged with aggravated battery (Monday); Joe Reddic, against whom are counts of aggravated battery have been filed, (Wednesday); John Lee Dade, charged with carnal knowledge of a juvenile, and Cecil Honeycutt, charged with aggravated battery (Thursday); and Junior Wright Goodin, whose case was postponed until this week because of a missing witness, charged with theft (Friday).

During the first week of the spring term of court, May 5 to 9, Ernest Pat Davis was found guilty of armed robbery of Mack Tatum, Shreveport, whose nude and battered body was discovered in the Illinois Central freight yards last December. Davis was sentenced to six years in the state penitentiary.

H. H. Sikes, pleading guilty to an attempt to defraud the Motor Securities Co. of $375 by obtaining a loan for that amount on an automobile already mortgaged, was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary, the term to begin from the time of his original incarceration.

L. E. Freeman, also pleading guilty to a charge of theft, was sentenced to six months in jail, including time already served.

J. T. Anderson, sentenced to one year after admitting the theft of a shotgun, has his sentence suspended and was placed under the supervision of the parole officer.

Leonard McMillan pleaded guilty to stealing a doctor's valise, a charge originally filed against Junior Wright Goodin, and was sentenced to a year in the state prison. Goodin, still facing a charge of simple burglary, the theft of clothes from a Monroe store, was held over for trial on May 23.

Geraldine Adams was acquitted of alleged manslaughter, and Wilmer Jackson, of noctural burglary.

Acting on those who had pleaded guilty before the opening of court, Judge Garrett sentenced Richard C. Russ to 12 months at hard labor on two separate counts of passing worthless checks; Aubrey L. Roller to 12 months each for passing one worthless check for $50 and another for 90; and Margaret Mack to one year for stealing $50, and two years for stealing $90.

Petit jurors chosen for the second week of court beginning tomorrow are:

W. L. Ethridge, Jr., James Brooks, R. L. George, Robert Powell, Shelby Johnson, Manley Eady, George Fred Beckett, E. N. Hemphill, C. L. Taylor R. E. Luckey, Jack Entrican, L. C. Latham, William R. Hearne, James Johnston, Howard Butler.

Life Span And Jobs

The American woman—although she frequently complains that she feels poorly—can now expect to live 69 1 2 years. That is 16 years more than she could expect to live in 1900. Man can expect to live 64 1 2 years. These figures come from the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, which has a direct interest in how long people live.

There is no reason to think modern medical methods will not increase the expected span of life of man and woman.

This raises the question of economics. People who live longer expect to remain active in work longer. As the life span increases, more jobs are necessary to take care of the number of workers available. This increase in manpower comes at a time when it might be thought that machines would make additional manpower unnecessary.

Today there is no indication of an approaching surplus of labor, but from the long-range standpoint the situation comprises one of the big problems of the future. Scores of books have been written by men trying to find a solution.

Many advocate still shorter hours, early retirement and increased consumption. The problem is how to get the various cures started before the ailment becomes serious. If men quit work at 50, as some predict they will soon, what are they going to do the next 20 or 30 years? It does not seem logical to waste all that potential productive power.

The increase in the life span has already shown up in some trades. Whole rooms are filled with men past middle age. The average age of printers today, according to one set of statistics, is 56.

Like many problems that loomed in the past and solved themselves, this one may never become pressing. It was freely predicted 50 years ago that machines would create widespread unemployment and misery. Today, with mechanization much further advanced, unemployment is almost entirely of the voluntary type.

A RUBBER GLUT

Speaking of lower prices, rubber seems headed for some deflation in the next 12 months. An oversupply is developing, according to reports. It is estimated that nearly 1,500,000 long tons of natural rubber will arrive in consuming areas during 1948. The world also has a potential production capacity of approximately a similar quantity of synthetic rubber.

Thus 3,000,000 long tons of rubber is indicated as the available supply next year. Consumption of all types of rubber in 1948 is estimated at 1,500,000 tons. Great overproduction therefore is indicated unless output of synthetic plants is reduced drastically.

Natural rubber producers are expected to sell in the United States at 12 cents a pound or less. The current price of synthetic rubber in the United States is 18 1 2 cents a pound. It would appear that U. S. synthetic rubber plants are facing ruinous competition. There are rumors that their output will be reduced to 50,000 tons a year. Their capacity is 1,000,000 tons.

It would be reflection of short-sightedness if these plants were permitted to fade out of the picture entirely. By retaining synthetic plants, this country can compete with natural rubber, producers of which combined to shoot the price up to $1 a pound 20 years ago. And synthetic will again be needed in case of another international conflict.

FLYING WHITE HOUSE

President Truman is to have a new airplane. And what a ship! This high-speed transport, capable of 300 miles an hour, will be put into service next month and will provide the chief executive and his staff with the most advanced type of air transportation.

Its four motors have a total of 8,000 horsepower. Its pressurized cabins permit travel at any altitude. Every known safety device has been installed.

Capable of carrying 52 passengers, it will have special quarters for the president, with desk, lounge and other facilities for business and comfort. Through radio-telephone apparatus the president will have instantaneous connection with the White House, any member of the cabinet, or any government office. The president has named it the "Flying White House," and that is what it will be when he is aboard.

As an indication of the progress aviation is making, it is announced "The Sacred Cow," now used by the president, and a great ship in its day, will become a museum piece when the new ship goes into service. No president prior to Franklin D. Roosevelt flew while in office because it was considered foolhardy for the chief executive to take such chances.

HITLER MYTH

Adolf Hitler is presumed to have died two years ago, in a final gesture of despair, but rumors persist he still is alive and hiding in some friendly country. These rumors not only purport to tell of his present whereabouts, but also describe the manner of escape on that day when his world was falling and only a few faithful followers remained at his side.

Russians declare that although they made a long and painstaking search they did not uncover a single bit of evidence that Hitler had committed suicide. They insist he still is alive. W. F. Heimlich, former chief of U. S. army intelligence in Berlin, holds to the same idea.

Allied leaders in Germany follow up every clue as to Hitler's present whereabouts, if still alive. If Hitler has reached his final destination it is certain nothing will be heard from him, because of lack of communication facilities.

Jimmie Fidler
IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, May 17—Looks like George Raft is worried by recent bad publicity and informed his agent he'll consider only roles calculated to win audience sympathy. . . . Now it's Eagle-Lion that posted bans against the employment of any person "known to have Communistic connections or sympathies." . . . Altar-bound Radio singer Perry Como and Broadway actress Rose Ann Murray . . . Hal Charlie Chaplin, who argued that his name on the marquee would be enough to sell "Monsieur Verdoux," has agreed, after checking first returns, to withdraw the picture from distribution until it's been given a big exploitation campaign.

What does Carmen Miranda need of an agent of her own? She's slated for seven more guest shots on 11 programs this month. . . . Judy Garland, in poor health for two years, is now working with a doctor in constant attendance . . . "The Tidings," official Catholic publication for Southern California, has come out claiming that "Duel In The Sun," has been cleared by the Legion of Decency, are misleading. The picture is still branded "Objectionable in Part." . . . Here's a switch: Bert Lahr is out of the Bob Hope show for a few months, in order to devote full effort to his band.

Jane Wyman's illness (stomach ulcers) will keep him from working for at least four months. . . . Shirley Temple and Onslow Stevens, who got married recently and are now separated, . . . Offbeat bill presented by B. P. O. E. show: Danny Kaye is England's favorite comic.

NEWSY NIGHTIES: Pic of the week: "Lost Artists" Dishonored Lady," Cindy Lenser, Dennis O'Keefe, John Loder . . . A . . . with average . . . BOOT PERFORMANCE: Hedy Lamarr in "Dishonored Lady."

Eric Johnston, prexy of the Motion Picture Association, issued another of his weekly warnings the other day. He said that if the foreign market is further curtailed, Hollywood will be forced to cut the quality of its product. In view of the already low average quality of Hollywood product, and the fact that every studio in the business, despite official wails, is making the biggest profits in its history, it seems apropos to ask one question, to wit: How thin can you slice it?

I'm sorry to hear that M. G. M. has no new picture scheduled for Claude Jarman, Jr., until late fall. The youngster who scored such a hit as Jody in "The Yearling" hasn't been before the cameras for almost a year, and for a growing 13-year-old, that could easily mean curtains. Claude has grown several inches since playing the role that brought him his academy award. What a pity it would be if studio bosses, by keeping him idle, permitted his promising career to be stunted by his growth.

Shocking of academy award winning players. I'm reminded of Joan Crawford and a recent conversation with Otto Preminger, who will direct her in "Daisy Kenyon" when it goes before the cameras some three months hence. Preminger tells me that he hasn't had a sound night's sleep since she was handed her copy of the shooting script. Joan, always a night owl, telephones him at all hours of the night to pass comment and make suggestions. This, mind you, with the starting date still three months away. I'll agree with Preminger that it's sorta tough to be routed out at two or three o'clock in the morning, if he'll agree with me that any director oughta congratulate himself when he has a star who takes that much interest in an assignment. If there were more players who shared her attitude, there would be more good pictures.

Actress Boots Mallory was booked on a drunk driving charge the other night, when she and Herbert Marshall were picked up by police after an erratic chase. When arraigned in court, next day, she pleaded not guilty and her trial was set for next Monday. Well, guilty or not, there's one thing becoming more apparent every day. With traffic fatalities continuing to mount by leaps and bounds, even GNE drink is too many drinks, if the person who takes it is going to drive an automobile.

IN WASHINGTON

By Peter Edson

WASHINGTON, (NEA)—Nine displaced persons, liberated from D. P. camps in Europe and now in the United States as refugees, were brought to Washington this week for a three afternoon. Advance billing said that this would be the most exciting press conference of the year. It wasn't. Barely a dozen reporters showed up. Nobody cared.

Nobody cares about although the war ended two years, there are still about a million people in displaced persons camps. They have no home. Because persecution, they can't go back where they came from. So they are shifted around from camp to camp, while authorities try to figure out what to do with them.

As one of the nine phrased it, 'We have been persecuted one year by the Nazis, three years by the Germans, and two years by UNRRA."

The camps of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation run, through the efforts of the first Director General, Herbert Lehman, are not unlike those of the Nazis. They are not unlike those of the Nazis. But they assert that UNRRA camp officials were ordered up to Soviet liaison officers who were permitted to screen the D. P.'s and take away those they wanted. UNRRA camps have been filled with Communist and agents of the Russian NKVD, they say.

Try To Force Them Back

All but a few of the nine have been subjected to direct pressures to accept repatriation. In some cases the nations concerned have sent UNRRA officials to the camps to tell them there has been no heat. Some of the refugees were taken to the borders of their homelands and shoved across.

Others have accepted repatriation, but then fled back to the camps. Their experiences have made these people more determined than ever not to go back to the places they once called home.

They don't want UNRRA, they say, but the new International Refugee Organization when United Nations is now trying to set up. All they want is a place to go—any place where they can settle down in peace and begin a life.

The nine refugees, who were interviewed by Assistant Secretary of War for Air John A. McCone, Under Secretary of the Defense Committee Robert P. Patterson

Mackenzie's Column

By DeWitt Mackenzie
(Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Some three weeks ago U. S. Secretary of State George Marshall, just back in Washington from the deadlocked Big Four foreign ministers' conference in Moscow, warned the nation that the fate of Europe must be settled without delay.

Premier Stalin had told Marshall that compromises were possible on the great issues between the allies, but the latter in his report to the people declared that the fate of Europe couldn't wait on "compromise or exhaustion." The secretary of state added:

"Disintegrating forces are becoming evident. The patient is sinking while the doctors deliberate. Whatever action is possible to meet these pressing problems must be taken without delay."

Proof of the truth of Marshall's prophesy was treading on his heels. Today the German economic crisis, complicated by a grave shortage of food, makes it only too clear that the "disintegrating forces" are working fast. For Germany is the center of the earthquake which is rocking all Europe.

Within the past few days great statesmen of Britain and France have echoed General Marshall's thesis. Only Moscow remains as ever the Sphynx.

British Foreign Secretary Bevin, speaking in the House of Commons, declared that if relations between the East and West (between Russia and the Western Democracies) aren't improved at the November conference of the foreign ministers, "no one can phophesy what course the world will take."

"I regard the London conference in November as probably the most vital in the world's history," he said. At another point he asserted that the creation of a new Germany will "take a long time to realize" but "by undue delay, difficulties will get worse rather than better."

And yesterday French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault declared that next autumn's four-power conference is the world's last chance to achieve "a unified peace for a united world," and he sounded Marshall's warning:

"One thing is clear. Time becomes more and more precious."

This array of thought wouldn't have been complete without a word from that master of words, Winston Churchill, and he came through with a call to Britain and France to take the lead in restoring the German national economy before the defeated people "turn their thoughts to revolt and revenge." Like his fellow statesmen, Churchill held that "the central and almost the most serious problem which glares upon the Europe of today is the future of Germany."

Churchill was making another appeal for a United States of Europe—a subject which is increasingly in the thoughts of many people. Certainly a unified Europe is in the minds of statesmen like Marshall, Bevin and Bidault, whether it be called a "United States of Europe" or by some other name.

It is a truism which this column has emphasized often enough that unity in Europe—at least in Central and Western Europe—depends on the politico-economic rehabilitation of Germany. That's not because Germany's neighbors love her—for nobody does—but because she was the keystone of the European structure.

You will note that the emphasis on "speed" in settling German affairs is common in the declarations of each of the four statesmen quoted. It perhaps isn't so much that the German people might, as Churchill says, "turn their thoughts to revolt and revenge," for we can handle that. But the continent is deteriorating along with the Reich. Their fates are inseparable.

Time essential for settlement of the grave differences between Russia and the Western allies is, as Stalin himself has pointed out, a desire to cooperate. Whether that desire exists on both sides is the great imponderable upon which the fate of Europe depends. We may not find the answer to that before the November conference, but meantime there are growing signs that the Western allies intend to go ahead on their own to try to make peace for Europe if Russia cannot see her way to cooperate.

REAL BULL STORY TOLD

NEW ORLEANS, May 17.— (AP) — State Trooper Roland Lafleur brought a real bull story to town today. It was about a 1,700-pound bull that sat down in the middle of the Missouri Pacific Railroad track yesterday near Opelousas, La., and halted a Texas-bound passenger train. The crew gathered round and after a little coaxing persuaded the bull to move. He was one of 20 animals set loose after the overturning of a cattle truck near Bayou Courtableau.

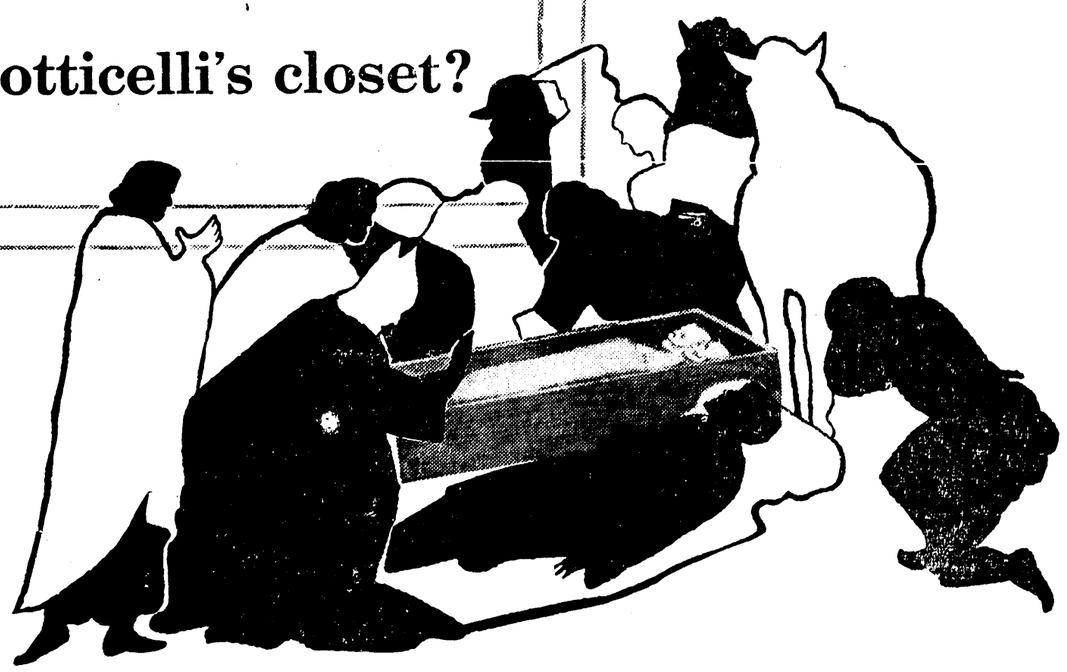
Who hid the skeletons in Botticelli's closet?



Two skeletons came to light recently when a famous painting was cleaned by the Metropolitan Museum of Art. When Botticelli painted his Three Miracles of St. Zenobius in the fifteenth century, the skeletons were conspicuous parts of the central scene. But before the Metropolitan acquired the picture 35 years ago, someone painted over the skeletons and hid them from the eyes of the world.

To disinter Botticelli's bones, museum experts used infrared photographs, X-rays, microscopes, scalpels, and chemical solvents. Acetone and methyl and ethyl alcohol were among the solvents that dissolved the varnish and other resinous substances. They are helpful chemical tools in the delicate work of preserving and restoring art treasures.

CSC acetone and other solvents work for industry on a far larger scale than rescuing skeletons from museum closets. They are of great importance in the mass production of plastics, synthetic fibers, paints, and photographic film. Commercial Solvents serves industry, medicine, and agriculture with more than two hundred fine chemical products.

N. J. C. PLANNING SUMMER SCHOOL

Registration To Start On June 6; Classes For Nine Weeks

Registration for the nine-week summer term at Northeast Junior College is scheduled Friday and Saturday, June 6-7, announced Dr. W. R. Hammond, head of the social science department and director of the summer school. Registration for credit by paying a late fee will end June 14.

Classwork begins Monday, June 9, and the term ends August 9. The school will operate on a five-day week basis with classes running on Monday through Friday.

A tuition fee of $15 will be paid by those registering as regular students. A change in the schedule of fees will go into effect with the summer terms, Dr. Hammond explained. The program calls for the elimination of laboratory and music fees which regular students formerly paid in addition to the standard tuition.

This summer school will offer courses needed by students entering college for the first time and also a considerable number of classes for persons who have already earned college hours. Those coming to Northeast Junior College as new students are requested to bring their transcripts of credits to facilitate registration. Veterans should bring their certificates of eligibility.

A tentative schedule has been planned but only those classes for which there is sufficient demand are to be taught. Courses temporarily offered include: Animal Industry 11; Agronomy 51; Chemistry 2, 4, 12, 55; Accounting 1, 53, 54; Secretarial Science 51, 53, 55; Books and Libraries 1; History 1; Home Economics 5, 51; Mathematics 1, 2, 52, 56; Mechanical Drawing; piano; Psychology 51; Sociology 51; Spanish 1, 52.

Dr. Rodney Cline, dean of the local college, has been granted a leave of absence by Louisiana State University to become a member of the summer faculty of George Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn., where he received the Ph. D. degree in 1936. Dr. Cline was invited to teach throughout the summer there but he plans to limit his work at Peabody to the first term of six weeks beginning June 9. This will enable him to return to N. J. C. for the last three weeks of summer school.

The schedule of courses which he will teach as visiting professor comprises statistics, educational administration, and the college dean and registrar.

Dr. Cline will be accompanied to Nashville by his wife and daughter, Kathleen.

it declines the country "loses its guarantees of national security and perhaps even its hopes of peace."

He warned against a complacency which believes "we can meet any new threat of war with the weapons left over from the last one," adding:

"There can be no truly effective defense against the new weapons except extreme mobility and striking power of our own to wipe out the sources of enemy attack before they have completely obliterated our cities and destroyed our industrial strength. Only the airplane can provide that mobility."

Robert E. Gross, president of the Lockheed Aircraft Corp., told the senators that unless this country lays down a five-year building program immediately, it stands a good chance of "being outstripped in technical achievements by Britain and surpassed in numbers by Russia."

He said Britain has a five-year program and recently the British jet-propelled Gloster Meteor wrested speed laurels from America's P-80. He urged more attention be given to production of a basic plane to do more things.

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder has been invited to appear as the first witness. The committee will seek to learn from him whether the administration, opposing tax slashing now, would approve easing of the various levies next year.

Some committee members hope also to get word from Snyder whether President Truman will veto the current slash if congress puts it on his desk.

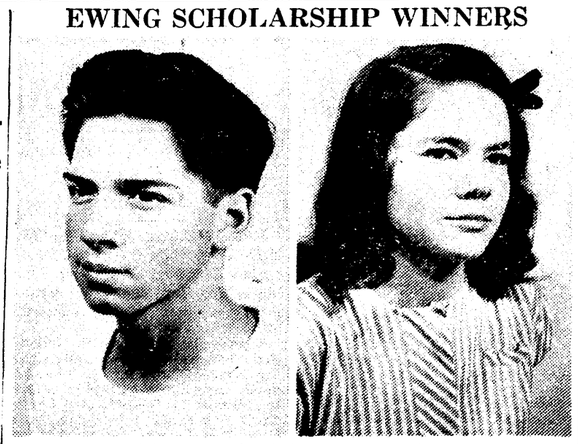
EWING SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS



Ellis Sandoz (left) and Ruth Marie Bradford, both 16-year-old seniors at Byrd high school, Shreveport, winners, respectively, of the first and second prize scholarships.

was a leader in education for the children of Louisiana. He was the founder of the Morning World, publisher of the Shreveport Times and a livelong advocate of constitutional government and of a strong public school system as a means of preserving it. He also was the original sponsor of free text books in Louisiana schools.

This year's essay contest subject was "Woodrow Wilson, His Influence in Our Country." The annual contests are open to all boys and girls in the upper fourth of the junior or senior class of any accredited high school in Louisiana or in certain counties of Arkansas and Texas and who are certified by their principals as worthy in character of a four year college course free.

The second place scholarship must go to a contestant of opposite sex to the first place winner, thus assuring one boy and one girl as the two winners each year.

L. S. U. has announced that past scholarship winners have no grade below C and that as a group they have a B average. Above average scholastically at Byrd high, the first and second place winners this year are interested in sports and music as extra-curricular activities, both as participants and spectators.

All of the eight scholarship winners will be at L. S. U. next year, with the second place winner of the first contest, Emogene Pliner, a senior at the university. William Veal, a junior at Byrd when he took first in the 1944 contest, did not enter the university until a year later than Miss Pliner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Pliner, Shreveport. Veal is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Veal, Shreveport.

Gerald Rigby, Byrd junior, was winner of the first scholarship in 1945 and Patsy Sue Bently, a senior, was the second scholarship winner. Winners in 1946 were Gene Lefitte, Byrd senior and the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Lafitte, Shreveport, and Marguery Lacey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Lacey, Shreveport, a senior at Byrd high.

This year's winners competed against a large number of entries, including students in New Orleans, Baton Rouge, Lake Charles, Monroe and other city schools, as well as against entries from many rural schools.

Scholarship contest judges, who are a group of L. S. U. professors, received numbered essays from the News-Star-World and the Times and did not have the names of students submitting them, nor did they know the names of schools from which the essays came.

The judging committee returned winners by numbers, telegraphing:

"Judges award first place to number forty-one, second to number sixty. Three other awards to numbers twenty-nine, twenty-six and fifty-eight."

In a letter following the telegram announcing the winning numbers and confirming the first notification, Dean Scroggs said that the essay submitted by Sandoz was the best of any of the essays entered in the four annual scholarship contests.

The scholarship essay contest judging committee, in addition to Dean Scroggs, includes Harlan L. McCracken, professor of economics at L. S. U., and Benjamin F. Mitchell, professor of secondary education. Dean Scroggs is nationally known as a writer on political economy. Professor McCracken is an authority on problems of education and economics and Professor Mitchell is known widely as an authority on educational administration.

which would remain as minor. He expects the House to yield to the Senate on those.

It may be more difficult than that. Hartley has indicated that in exchange for junking the bargaining and injunctions items, the House group expects the Senate to accept a workers "bill of rights."

This House provision is designed to protect employes against such things as excessive union dues and initiation dues, denial of the right to resign from a union, and union intimidation of workers' families.

Ellender is willing to compromise on this and perhaps require unions to denounce such practices in their constitutions. But Senator Taft (R-Ohio) and Ball (R-Minn) also conferees, are flatly opposed to the proposed bill of rights on the ground it would give the government too big a hand in the regulation of union internal affairs.

Ball predicted that Hartley and his colleagues will "back down" on the provision.

Senator Fulbright (D-Ark) called the senate measure a "good, sound" bill and said that if the version which comes out of conference is "close to it, then I think there is a very good chance the President will sign it."

THE NATION TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(AP)—A man who was born in a lighthouse and moved to the White House will now collect your income taxes.

He's George J. Schoeneman, 57, just appointed by President Truman to be the new internal revenue commissioner, starting July 1.

He's worked for the government 36 years and around here he has the reputation of being quite a gladhander.

This doesn't mean you can go up and shake hands with him and get a tax cut.

He'll have 60,000 people working for him in the bureau, collecting and checking your taxes.

His salary, for seeing that about $35,000,000,000 in taxes are shoveled in to Uncle Sam will be $10,000 a year. (About $20,000,000,000 of that is income taxes).

He was born in a lighthouse, where his father was keeper, off Newport, R. I.

In those days, he says, the lighthouses were built round on the inside, just as on the outside and—

Sometimes the people on the inside went balmy rolling their eyes around because they had no wall angles to center on.

The government, he says, later made them square on the inside.

"Maybe you'd better go a little slow on that," he once told an interviewer, "or people might get the idea I got out of there before the improvements."

In 1911 he started as a $900-a-year stenographer in the post office department and worked in the department until 1920.

Then he moved over to the internal revenue bureau and by 1929 was deputy commissioner. There he stayed until 1944.

In that time, he figures, he supervised the collection of $109,849,336,419 in revenue for the government.

In 1945 President Truman called him to the White House and made him one of his administrative assistants there.

And there Schoeneman has been ever since. But the other day the present revenue commissioner resigned. He's Joseph D. Nunan, Jr., 50.

Nunan has been bossing tax collections since 1941. He was a New York lawyer and he's going back there in June.

So Mr. Truman picked Schoeneman to succeed Nunan. Schoeneman, married, has two grown daughters.

EXECUTIVE

Secretary Charles G. Ross said they visited for about five minutes.

The president has reserved quarters at the Muehlebach Hotel in Kansas City for an indefinite stay.

Ross said General Graham gave this picture of Mrs. Truman's condition:

Complications which appeared about a week ago had cleared up, but her heart is growing weaker. She has not been in pain, has retained all of her mental facilities, and has not been given sedatives.

"She knows her own condition. She is an excellent diagnostician," Ross said the physician told Mr. Truman.

Earlier Graham said Mrs. Truman is suffering from a tired heart and that her condition was very serious. Before the heart ailment developed, he said, he had hoped to have Mrs. Truman walking again within a few days.

"She is suffering from a tired heart. Her condition at all times has been serious, but she has been getting along well. We have got her out of bed and into a rocking chair every day. I had hopes of getting her to walk, but her heart is very weak.

"At first she had some trouble with her liver and she had some temperature, but her physicians were able to cope with these conditions. Now the only complication is her heart."

Miss Truman said her mother first failed preceptibly about 2 o'clock this morning.

"We did not call the president at once, because she seemed to be resting better shortly afterward.

"Then after mother rallied from the first setback, she had a second relapse between 3 and 3:30. I called the president about 4 o'clock.

Mr. Truman's face was solemn as he left his plane. No photographs were made and he said nothing.

After stopping at his mother's cottage for 45 minutes he was driven to the nearby farm home of his brother, Vivian, for dinner. Later he returned to his mother's home.

Mrs. Truman twice before has suffered broken bones in recent years and recovered despite her advanced age.

She suffered a fractured hip and shoulder, respectively, in falls in her home. The latest fall came as she was preparing to retire.

She was able to move around the house until the February accident.

Her fracture apparently had been healing satisfactorily until the relapse today. The cast was removed from her leg a week ago.

Accompanying the president on his flight home were two secretaries, Charles G. Ross and Matthew Connelly.

Judge Martin said he would rule at 10 o'clock Monday morning whether to allow the statements as implicating all defendants on all counts.

These counts are:

1. All 31 defendants accused of murder.

2. Defendant Roosevelt Carlos Hurd, Sr., accused of murder and all other accessories before the fact.

3. Defendants Hurd accused of murder, and all other accessories after the fact.

4. All 31 defendants accused of conspiracy to commit murder.

Marchant, nephew of one of South Carolina's principal mill owners, acknowledged to police that he accompanied the lynch mob, but claimed he had no part in planning the crime, and tarried only momentarily at the spot where Earle was killed. A federal agent, A. B. Lee, testified today, however, that Marchant told him he picked up three taxi drivers whose cab was disabled by a flat tire, and drove them to the scene of the murder. One of these, Fowler, allegedly went back to Greenville with Marchant and Martin, and the defense sought accquittal on that ground.

Judge Martin refused today to admit in evidence a series of gruesome photographs, showing how the Negro was beaten and savagely knifed before his head was all but shot away by three charges of quail shot from a single-barrel, 12-gauge shotgun.

Defense attorneys contended the photographs were "highly prejudicial" to the defendants, and Counsel Thomas Wofford said "they don't prove a thing except that the Negro is dead, and everybody admits that."

Prosecutor Sam Watt insisted "the manner in which the body is mutilated certainly goes to prove malice in a murder charge," and argued: "We feel in this case these pictures accurately portray the manner in which they (the defendants) went about killing the Negro."

TRADE CHARTER IS ASKED BY MARSHALL

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(AP)—Secretary of State Marshall tonight urged agreement on a charter for the proposed international trade organization as a "great step toward economic stability and the common security."

"Economic conflict and trade wars," Marshall said, "invariably set the stage for political disunity."

The secretary's statement was for the opening of world trade week. He termed its keynote, "World trade unites nations," particularly appropriate for "a time when the need for unity among the peoples is more vital than ever before in history."

Although the United States took the lead in bringing about the current international effort at Geneva to lower trade barriers and agree on a final draft for the projected world trade organization, Marshall said success would depend upon the cooperation of all the 18 trading nations represented.

The state department at the same time published a report from the Geneva meeting which said the United States had opened negotiations with ten of the 15 countries with which trade talks were originally scheduled. By the end of May it expects 100 separate negotiations to be in progress between pairs of countries represented at Geneva.

The progress made, the report advised, "indicates the desire of the countries present to successfully conclude the negotiations within a few months." By contrast, single trade agreements between the United States and other countries have taken as long as a year for drafting.

NAT'L LEGION VICE-COMMANDER WILL BE GUEST HERE MONDAY

Monroe will be honored with a visit from Richard C. Cadwallader, vice-commander of the American Legion, who will address the L. B. Faulk post at the Monday night meeting. His talk will be primarily concerning the veterans' housing on which he is an authority.

He is a Baton Rouge attorney and was major in the engineering service in World War II, having spent five years in service. At the present time he is not only national vice-commander of the legion but also chairman on the American Legion national committee on housing. He made a highly effective presentation of the veterans' cause in public hearings held in Washington last fall, and resulted in the marking of various changes in the national housing setup, which was headed by former Mayor Wilson Wyatt of Louisville.

Cadwallader is a member of the Baton Rouge post and largely through his efforts, that post is putting into practice the American Legion housing program which now has under construction 250 homes in that city for veterans exclusively. The Baton Rouge post gave him a testimonial dinner which brought out 1,000 people, all paying admissions. National Commander Paul Griffith flew down from Washington to pay tribute and in the course of his talk designated Cadwallader as the outstanding legionnaire of World War II.

Post Commander Walter Kellogg urges all members to be sure to attend the legion meeting Monday at 8 p. m., for the presence of Cadwallader is regarded as something that is unusual and the post here is specially favored to have him as a guest.

BATTLESHIP

that not even a scrap of flotsam was to be seen.

Thus closed the colorful but unheroic career of a ship that never, in two wars, succeeded in fulfilling her intended destiny. She never, in all her 31 years, had fired a shot at an enemy.

The 29,000-ton ship was laid down in 1912, launched March 23, 1914, and finally commissioned May 2, 1916. The authoritative director, Jane's Fighting Ships, listed her and her sister ship, the Nevada of Bikini fame, as super-dreadnaughts, first of the "everything or nothing" theory of ship construction, with tremendous armor, ten 14-inch guns, sixty 5-inchers, and myriad smaller weapons. She was 583 feet long; 107 feet, 11 inches wide; and had places for more than 1,300 fighting men.

In the First World War she was based at Berehaven, Ireland, but saw no action.

In the peacetime years, while training thousands of cadets and sailors, she made headlines by colliding with a railroad barge at Bremerton, Wash., and with the battleship Arizona on another occasion.

The Oklahoma was anchored at Pearl Harbor when the Japanese planes struck on December 7, 1941. The nearby Arizona was destroyed.

Pierced by five torpedoes, the Oklahoma herself was on the bottom and capsized within 11 minutes. She went down so fast that her crew did not have time to man the guns.

Many died in their bunks, and others fell as they raced to battle stations. Thirty-two men, trapped deep inside her were later rescued alive with the aid of cutting-torches.

Proudly determined to raise and fight her, the navy finally succeeded 18 months later. She was to be refitted and gain vengeance, as did the Nevada, the Maryland, the Tennessee, the West Virginia, the Pennsylvania and the California.

It was not worthwhile. Battered and obsolete, still reeking of violent death, she was abandoned late in 1944.

Throughout the rest of the war she lay at anchor in Pearl Harbor, a gruesome reminder of the sneak attack.

The navy debated long whether it would be best to sink her or cut her up for scrap.

Eventually she was sold to the Moore Drydock Company, of Oakland, Calif., for $46,000. She had cost $75,000,000 to build and untold sums to raise.

Navy men said the attempt to tow the ship to the mainland was recognized beforehand as a big gamble, but that the buyers had stood to make a big profit on the scrap had they succeeded.

Rear Admiral Louis Dreller, commandant of the navy yard, said the sale was on a "where is and as is" basis but the navy made all repairs requested by the Moore Company.

"Then the work was inspected and we gave them all files and information," he said.

Captain J. R. Ryssy of the coast guard said that since there were no passengers, formal certification of seaworthiness had not been necessary.

It was not known here whether insurance was carried. Moore Company members in Oakland also were uncertain on this point in the absence of the official handling insurance matters.

The company had planned to start cutting her up in June. Only this week, Joseph Moore, head of the company, said he had received word that nearly 500 Oklahomans, including Governor Roy J. Turner, planned a special visit to Oakland to pay their final respects to a gallant but unlucky ship.

Instead, the Oklahoma died at sea.

FIRE ALARMS

Fire companies one and three extinguished a fire at 1413 Washington street at 1:48 a. m. Saturday. Carelessness with cigarettes was the cause of the fire, firemen reported.

An overheated dry kiln at Preston Lumber Company, 19 and Olive streets, at 5:05 a. m. Saturday was extinguished by fire company 3. The building was reported owned by J. J. Preston.

Except for coal, sulphur, and copper Japan is poorly supplied with industrial minerals.

cents a week additional in "fringe" benefits. That strike was called off as of 12:01 a. m. Sunday.

Just how the A. C. E. W.'s new picket line order would affect earlier settlements was not immediately clear in all cases but Weaver demanded the unions' backing.

The Southwestern workers, like many others, were told to respect Western Electric picket lines.

Another negotiating session between the A. C. E. W. and Western Electric was set for 11 a. m. tomorrow (9 a. m. Central standard time) and Weaver expressed the hope that "the corporation by that time will recognize that union busting is no answer to labor relations in this day and age."

Earlier the company and A. C. E. W. had been reported six to eight cents an hour apart on wages. The union wanted 15 cents an hour across the country and the company offered 7, 8 and 9 cents, in various areas.

Here is the situation in other Western Electric negotiations:

1. Talks in New York between the company and the National Association of Telephone Equipment Workers, a group of repairmen and employes who distribute supplies to Bell companies, were deadlocked over the form of a proposed no-strike clause. A union official said negotiations would not start again "unless the company calls us." A company spokesman said that "We are ready to continue negotiations at any time the union is disposed to do so."

2. In Washington, the Western Electric Employees' Association, a group of manufacturing workers in the company's Kearny, N. J., plant and nearby plants, still had received no wage offer because of continuing arguments about such issues as a no-strike clause.

Also on strike are manufacturing employes in Western Electric plants at Baltimore and at Lincoln, Nebr. Employes at the company's biggest plants, the Hawthorne plant at Cicero, Ill., got a wage increase yesterday averaging 11 1/2 cents an hour, but they had not been on strike.

Another settlement announced today involved operators and accounting employes in Michigan Bell—increases of $3 and $4 weekly—but this agreement still must be ratified by the strikers.

Also in Washington, the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company announced that the Washington telephone traffic union has accepted a company offer of $4 weekly wage increases to operators and $2 to $4 for other traffic department employes. More than 3,000 workers are affected.

12 ARE SENTENCED IN RITUAL SLAYING

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, May 17.—(AP)—Twelve members of an African tribe, including two women, were sentenced to death today at Maseru in Basutoland territory for the ritual murder of a nine-year-old native girl.

Evidence was given at their trial that a local tribal chieftain, fearing that he was about to be deposed by the government of the Union of South Africa, ordered a witch doctor to prepare a medicine of human flesh which, after he had consumed it, would safeguard his position.

The tribesmen were accused of seizing the girl, carving lumps of flesh from her body while she was alive, boiling the flesh with herbs and then killing the girl.

Basotuland is an island territory which lies 230 miles southeast of Johannesburg and directly west of the Indian Ocean port of Durban.

The case was the third instance of ritual murder brought before African courts in recent months.

Three tribesmen were hanged at Accra, Gold Coast, in March for killing a jungle chief so that his blood could be spilled over the vacant throne of a higher chief who had died a short time previously.

In April, 26 tribesmen were arrested at Dar Es Salaam, Tanganyika, in connection with more than 40 killings attributed to "Lionmen" who prowled the villages of th eEast African colony dressed in lion skins.

the replacement training center, Fort Jackson, S. C. The training period during which he will participate will be from 16 May 1947 to 0 May3 1947, inclusive.

Captain Breese served overseas for more than a year and received the Asiatic-Pacific theater campaign medal, the American theater campaign medal and the World War II victory medal, and the unit in which he served received a meritorious service plaque.

Do what one will in a public way and someone is bound to complain. So it was with the dedication of the Cheniere project on Wednesday. Jes' Ramblin' has a letter in which the writer, name not signed, bewails the fact that the public was not bidden. In order to clear up the situation we will explain that the West Monroe Kiwanis Club, which was the original source—the one in which the project had its birth—felt closer to the improvement than any other group. Quite naturally they felt that it would be fitting that they put on the party at its completion which they did. At their own expense they saw that 1,500 pounds of meat and all that went with a barbecue was purchased to feed an estimated 700 persons. The members of the club expressed their regret that they could not entertain all the public, but this was financially impossible. When viewed in this light, it would seem that there was no desire to slight anyone or hurt any person's feelings. It is suggested that those who have not already visited the site hold picnic parties on the grounds and become familiar with this beautiful project which belong to all the people of Ouachita parish.

A young bride in Monroe had been feeding her husband the same sort of meat every day for a week. He said nothing until the sixth day in which he has feasted off the same diet. Then he asked quietly: "Wouldn't it be a fine thing to get some other sort of meat tomorrow, honey?"

"Why I could, but it will cost money," she responded. "Why do you mean that you have not paid for meat all this week?" he asked in amazement.

"No I haven't paid for meat, for I have fed you on rabbit!"

"How on earth have you been able to get rabbit free of charge?"

"Well I get it in the back yard," she answered sweetly.

"In the back yard, why there are no rabbits there and anyway you have no gun!"

"I don't need a gun. I just go out there with a baseball bat and when one comes out, as they do, and says 'MEOW'—I just let him have it. That's how I get FREE MEAT."

In an attempt to extirpate the growing lawlessness, FBI-director Hoover made arrangements whereby facilities previously restricted for training special agents of the FBI were opened to law enforment officers of the United States and its possessions.

Since that time officials from foreign organizations also have been granted the privilege of attending the sessions.

While graduates find the criminological techniques learned at the academy of great value, the primary objective of the academy is the training of future police instructors. Through this means, the latest developments in the field of criminal detection have been made available to over 100,000 law enforcements by graduates of the academy.

In addition, those enrolled are given a thorough acquaintance with the legal phases of law enforcement, enabling a greater number of successful prosecutions.

Every effort is made to adjust the program to changing problems. Study in juvenile delinquency control and in traffic law enforcement is provided as well as in all phases of crime prevention and investigation.

In order to attend the academy an officer must be of good character and not over fifty years old. Each candidate is subjected to a thorough physical examination shortly after his arrival in Washington in order to ascertain whether he is in sufficiently good condition to undergo the rigorous training in athletics, defensive techniques, and firearms.

Over twenty officers from Louisiana have graduated from the FBI academy, Weeks disclosed, and all of them now fill important positions in law enforcement agencies in the state.

TWO MEN RECEIVE EYE OF MURDERER

LITTLE ROCK, May 17.—(AP)—The cornea of the right eye of a dead murderer was divided today between two living blind men.

The left eye was burned and rendered useless for surgical transplant, doctors discovered, when the murderer, Vollie Bill Bates, 20, Mena, Ark., was electrocuted yesterday at Tucker prison farm for the slaying of a hometown taxicab driver.

"We made two grafts off the good eye," said Dr. K. W. Cosgrove, who with Dr. J. F. Henry, performed the operations.

"It will be at least 10 days before we know whether the operations are successful," he declared after finishing the first transplant.

Michael F. Boucher, 73, retired Hot Springs, Ark., bricklayer, was first in the operating room for the transplants. He was followed by Frank McCracken, 49, Fort Smith piano tuner. Each had one eye which transplants might help.

ruary granted Louisselle's petition for a new trial. It pointed out that the speed of the original court procedure that May day in 1932 deprived De Meerleer of his constitutional rights.

Scott's probable appeal is dependent upon the outcome of De Meerleer's case.

Now, with a possibility of freedom in the offing, Louisselle said his client stood mute. The court automatically entered a plea of innocent for him.

Louisselle then demanded an examination and Judge Rathbun turned the matter over to Justice John Lowe in a lower court to set a date.

That was all.

De Meerleer, between court attaches, moved out and back beneath somber skies of another spring day to the little Lenawee County jail, where he was held without bond, to await the next spin of his legal wheel of fortune.

SHRINERS PLAN TO REORGANIZE HERE

All Shriners comprising nobles and ex-nobles and others interested are cordially invited to attend a special meeting for the purpose of organizing a Shrine club. The meeting is scheduled for Hotel Frances Thursday at 8 p. m.

Those who are interested in the project are Curtis Hair, Norman Coon, Sid Walker, Ben Parnell, S. K. Henninger, W. R. Sullivan, Tom Fernberg, Nathan Crooks, Dr. Dee Strickland, Henry Haas and Leo M. Baer.

Some years ago there was such a club here but it was disbanded in the depression days and it is now regarded timely to reorganize.

Early in the 20th century, the principal Sicilian exports to the United States were sulphur, wine and Sicilians. American sulphur production slowed down the first; American wines reduced the second market, and immigration laws almost halted the third.

THROWS DOG IN, DROWNS TRYING TO RESCUE IT

DAYTON, O., May 17. —(AP)— Apparently as a prank, Lenville Atkins, 31, threw a stray dog into swirling flood waters below a dam today.

As he stood watching the animal frantically trying to swim to safety, Atkins suffered remorse and jumped into the water to save the dog.

But Atkins lost his strength in the churning stream and cried for help.

James Taylor, one of three companions, dived in to rescue Atkins. Atkins sank from sight, and the two other men — Calvin Duncan and Thomas Terry—had to pull out Taylor.

The dog swam ashore, several hundred feet downstream, and returned to watch the search for Atkins. But the man had drowned.

OTTMEN BOUNCE CUBS FROM LEAD, BRAVES MOVE UP

Two-Run Rally In Eleventh Gives Giants 3-1 Victory Over Bruins

CHICAGO, May 17.—(AP)—The red hot New York Giants made it five in a row when they took their third straight from the Chicago Cubs today 3-1. A two-run rally in the 11th inning broke up a pitching duel between Southpaw Dave Koslo of the Giants and rookie Righthander Doyle Lade of the Cubs.

The victory enabled the Giants to move past the Cubs into second place a half game behind the Boston Braves who took over the top berth by whipping the St. Louis Cardnals.

Held to seven hits in the first 10 innings, the Giants knocked Lade out of the box in the 11th when Lloyd Gearhart and Buddy Kerr singled. Pinchhitter Joe LaFata brought in Gearhart with a one base blow and Boby Blattner scored Kerr with another one-baser.

PIRATES SCALP DODGERS

PITTSBURGH, May 17.—(AP)—Fritz Ostermueller, 39-year-old lefthander, gave up 12 hits but helped by four Pittsburgh double plays, shut out his former Brooklyn Dodger teammates 4-0.

The Pirates collected only four safeties off four Dodger hurlers, but one of them was a home run by big Hank Greenberg, his fifth of the season. Four bases on ball by Rookie Ed Chandler and a single by Frank Gustine accounted for two more markers in the eighth.

Jackie Robinson got two of Brooklyn's hits to extend his consecutive hitting streak to 14 games.

WINNSBORO, OLLA, JENA HOLD LEADS

Winnsboro, Olla, and Jena continue a neck-and-neck race for the leadership of the North Louisiana League after less than two weeks of play, and two of them will be playing away from home today.

Winnsboro, the defending champion, will be appearing in the new park there, however, against the Clarks Lumberjacks of Manager E. M. Steely.

The Olla club will invade Ferriday for a crack at Manager Leo Young's Cats, and Manager "Babe" Benning will take the LaSalle Oilers of Jena to Oak Grove for their first look of the season at P. R. Thaxton's outfit.

Columbia, without a league game today since Crossett, Ark., withdrew from the circuit, will nevertheless be active at home. Manager Ray Spicer last night said the Ramblers had scheduled a non-league game with the Jonesville club for the new Columbia Athletic Field.

Mid-week games will find Clarks at Jena, Ferriday at Oak Grove, and Olla at Columbia.

Lowther Breaks Leg, But Bengals Rally To Cop Twelfth Track Title

L. S. U. Pole Vaulter Hurt Trying For 13 Feet; Georgia Tech Second

By Chick Hosch

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 17.—(AP)—Louisiana State fought an uphill battle here today to win the Southeastern Conference track meet for the 12th time in 15 years by nosing out Georgia Tech, the pre-meet favorite, 52 1/4 points to 47.

However, the victory, not cinched until the Tigers took the mile relay, was costly as Bobby Lowther, star L. S. U. pole vaulter, suffered a broken leg while trying to clear 13 feet. He had won the event for the second straight year and the accident came as he swayed into a light pole while coming down.

It was apparent after ten events when Tech had a slight lead, that the outcome of the meet would depend on the mile relay, in which the Tigers were conceded to have a slight edge.

The individual star was a blond-headed freshman from Tech, Buddy Fowlkes, who flashed a performance unequalled in the meet's history in scoring 18 points. He won the 100 yard dash, the 220 yard dash and the low hurdles and was third in the broad jump.

Two performers—Billy Brown of L. S. U., in 1941, and Graham Batchelor of Georgia, in 1933, previously had been tied for the all-time high with 17 points.

Third place in the team scoring went to Auburn with 26 1-2 points, and Mississippi State was fourth with 26. Fifth place went to Tulane with 20 1-4 and sixth went to Florida with 15 3-4.

Alabama was seventh in scoring with 11 points, followed by Tennessee with 7 1-2; Georgia with 3 3-4; and Mississippi and Kentucky, each with 2. Vanderbilt failed to place.

L. S. U., with no entrants in six events ,wasn't conceded too much of a chance to nose out the favored Jackets, but got off to a flying start and then regained the lead in the final few events, Tech led after ten events, 37-32.

Tom Dickey, L. S. U.'s triple winner last year who wasn't defending any of his titles—in the 100 and 200 yard dashes and broad jump—took the 440 today in the remarkable time of 48.2, fastest since 1941, when Jack Boswell of Alabama, equalled that effort.

The meet opened with a stirring event, the mile run, with Fred Carley of Auburn besting Bob McMillen of Alabama in a tight duel. Whitey Overton of Auburn finished strong to nip Tulane's highly regarded Spencer Johnson at the wire for third place. Carley, the defending champion in the event, ran it in 4.22.2, the best time since Henry Frederiksen of Georgia copped it with 4.22.

L. S. U. picked up 10 points in the javelin when Jim Loflin won it with a toss of 187 feet, 6 inches, and teammates Gene Knight and Bobby Lowther were third and fourth.

The Jackets got nine of those points back in the 100-yard dash when three of them—Buddy Fowlkes, George Bailey and Billy Queen—ran 1-3-5. Fowlkes nosed out Paul Beinz of Tulane and Bailey in a blanket finish with the time of 9.9.

Bill Rhett of Mississippi State, winner of the half mile here in 1942 before entering the service, and who ran a close second to Carley last year, captured the event this year in 1:59.9, with Carley second.

The 220-yard dash was another blanket finish among Fowlkes, Bienz and Bailey, in that order, with Bienz barely lasting.

At the time of his accident, Lowther, third leading decathlon performer in the National A. A. U. last year, was working up to a try for a new conference pole vault record, his 12 feet 6 inch jump having cinched the event. The light pole, right at the side of the jumping pit, is heavily padded, but Lowther struck it at an angle and crashed to the ground with his leg under him.

Fowlkes was the only performer to win more than one event, and two (among 13) to defend success-Lowther and Carley were the only two (among 13) to defend successfully their 1946 titles.

YANKS WIN TWO

NEW YORK, May 17.—(AP)—Overcoming a three-run deficit in each game, the New York Yankees swept both ends of a double header from the Chicago White Sox by identical 4-3 scores here today. The double triumph, coupled with the Cleveland Indians' loss to Washington, vaulted the Yanks into third place.

Joe DiMaggio's third home run of the season, a drive into the left field stands opening the ninth inning gave the Yanks the victory in the opener after they had tied the count in the previous frame on Tommy Henrich's single which scored Pitcher Frank Shea. Shea went all the way to record his third triumph.

LOCAL SKEETERS TO SHOOT TODAY

Ouachita Skeet Club Invites All Shotgun Artists To First Event

Skeet shooters of Ouachita parish will turn out this afternoon for the newly organized Ouachita Skeet Club's first range appearance on the club's grounds at South Sixth and Plum streets, beginning at 1:30 o'clock.

The sport of skeet shooting, knocking down elusive and fast moving little targets with the skeeter's favorite shotgun, is beginning its post-war boom, and the Ouachita club is getting in on the ground floor of the return to this means of sport and recreation.

The club is also planning intercity matches with teams from other cities in this section of the country, and is also open for new members in an effort to uncover the best shotgun talent in Ouachita parish. A registration fee of $5 is required for membership with no other dues.

All skeet shooters are invited to today's event, it was announced by C. C. Whittlesley, club president, who said the concession to supply the club with ammunition and targets had been granted to Graves and Cummings Hardware, and that plenty of ammunition would be available for the shoot.

Other officers serving with Whittlesley are John Fox, secretary-treasurer; and a board of directors, T. O. Bancroft, Dr. S. A. Collins, and Dr. Neil Buie.

It will be the first game of the summer season for the Pelicans who were barely nudged out, 7 to 6, in their last game at Eros on May 1.

The game tomorrow will be the first meeting of the season between the Pels and Mer Rouge, but Coach Kosmac's boys will give Mer Rouge a return game Friday.

REMATCH CANNY, CURTIS FOR TITLE BATTLE TUESDAY

Kallio Signs Parker And Belkas For Semi-Final On Wrestling Card

"Wild Bill" Canny, disqualified in a non-title match with Jack Curtis, world's light heavyweight champion, in a non-title scramble last week, has challenged for the world's belt in a match Tuesday night at Gus Kallio's Arena, and Promoter Kallio declared last night Canny had offered the champ one hundred dollars to give him the chance.

"I have to defend my title most of the time without getting extra money," Curtis said, "and I would be foolish not to take the match when I can make the most of it."

Canny, who reigns as the Louisiana state light-heavy champ but is anxious to acquire the world's crown that he once held for only a few days, charged that Curtis and Rex Mobley, the latter also a top contender and former world's champion, are "sissies," and "know they can't beat me he-man style."

"I beat Curtis for the title in Jackson, Miss., recently, and a few days later had it taken away from me when Mobley wasn't man enough to face my style and so I was disqualified," Canny declared to Promoter Kallio.

MEN...Take a Tip from the Women and learn how wonderfully cool Seersucker can be!

Haspel Seersucker Suits

Women have always championed seersucker because it lets breezes in, lets body heat out. It took Haspel and New Orleans craftsmen to produce a man's suit that can survive humid weather and still look trim. At the office, at the beach, in or out of trains or buses, your Haspel seersucker will keep its crisp, clean lines. Launders as easily as your shirts, too, and never shrinks, fades, or discolors. Hot weather sits lightly on your shoulders when you're wearing a Haspel seersucker.

OTHER LEGION BASEBALL NINES OPENING SEASON

Bastrop At Farmerville, Columbia At Jonesboro In Games Today

Four other American Legion Junior baseball clubs take off their wraps today for their first official season openers in the Fifth District of Louisiana when Bastrop invades Farmerville, and Columbia goes to Jonesboro.

Of the four, Farmerville is regarded as one of the most potent of the district's ten legion teams, will open up at 3 o'clock today with at least two of the best players seen in action in the district last year. Henry Albritton, the Bernice boy who recently pitched his high school club to the state Class B championship, and James B. Pace, outstanding shortstop, are top numbers on Coach "Doc" Elliott's player list.

The games today will set the "West League" of the Fifth District into full swing. Ruston and Monroe-West Monroe pryed the lid off yesterday at Ruston with Ruston winning, 4 to 2.

Second openers for the "West" loop come up next week-end. Farmerville comes to Monroe for a contest Saturday afternoon, and a pair of other games are billed for next Sunday with Jonesboro at Bastrop and Ruston at Columbia.

The district's other four teams, Ferriday, Delhi, Rayville, and Winnsboro comprise the "East League" and do not open their official schedule until May 27 when Ferriday goes to Rayville, and Winnsboro invades Delhi.

Champions of the two leagues will meet in a playoff for the district title which must be determined not later than July 13.

From Farmerville last night, Coach Elliott announced Henry Albritton would be his starting pitcher, but said his hard hitting outfielder, Smith of Winville, would probably miss the game since his high school is conducting its baccalaureate services this afternoon.

The likely Farmerville starting lineup, Elliott said, will be Pace, shortstop; Morris Albritton, center field; Bob Albritton, third base; Hodge, catcher; Billy Henderson or Ruggs, second base; Nolan, left field; Miller or Canterberry, right field; Bob Taylor, first base; and H. Albritton, pitcher. Others Elliott expects to play are L. Albritton, P. Taylor, and J. D. Taylor.

In the district opener yesterday between Ruston and Monroe-West Monroe, Louis Pipes, the Calhoun chunker for Coach Larry Fox, set down the local aggregation, 4 to 2, on just two hits, and both the Monroe runs were unearned.

Pipes also struckout fifteen batters to impress the local juniors with the fact that their championship is far from safe this season.

George Parsons, working on the mound for Monroe, was tagged for eleven hits, but only two of the four runs scored off him were earned. Colvin caught for Ruston, and Kirby for Monroe-West Monroe. The Fox crew made only two errors, and the locals were charged with three.

Object of the Kid Sox organization is to train youngsters for future performance in American Legion junior baseball circles. Jonesville is fielding its first Legion team in many years this season.

Practice sessions are held on alternate afternoons and nights.

Brown has issued a challenge to other teams of the same age limitations in nearby towns for games with his Kid Sox.

Youngsters now working out with the squad include Albert Wurster, Harold Davis, Edgar Lee Gibson, Dee Brown, Jr., Clyde Ray Webber, Bud LaPrairie, James Girod, Jerry LaPrairie, Chas. L. S. U. COACH WILL BE GUEST SPEAKER AT ALUMNI MEETING

Bernie Moore To Attend Banquet At Virginia Hotel Wednesday Night

Bernie Moore, head coach of Louisiana State University, will be the honor guest at a banquet to be given here tonight by the Ouachita Parish Alumni Association of L. S. U. and Northeast Junior College. The banquet honoring Moore will be held at the Virginia Hotel, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, with W. C. Honeycutt, member of the N. J. C. faculty and president of the alumni chapter, in charge.

Bernie Moore

Prophetic Nostradamus must have had Bernie Hawthorne Moore in mind centuries ago when he predicted "the lone son of a servant of God will one day rise to glory on a field of battle."

Apparently the mystic marvel had something on the ball. For Moore is the son of a Baptist minister and has been the five-star general of Louisiana State's athletic teams for the past 12 years, his triumphs including the signal honor of tutoring national championship teams in two different sports, football and track.

A decade of strenuous work and excessive worry has elapsed since Moore last enjoyed the satisfaction and prestige of coaching a national championship team, but the Tiger track team of 1933, and football eleven of 1936, each recognized on every quarter as national titlists, to date remains the acme of coaching prowess in the Deep South.

A native of Jonesboro, Tenn., Moore was a four-sport star athlete at Carson-Newman College until he graduated in 1917. Making his debut in the then-cold field of coaching, his Winchester (Tenn.) High School teams won everything on the sports agenda with the exception of a district ping pong championship in which event the paddle pushers finished as runners-up.

Then came World War I, and Moore enlisted as a private "in the very rear ranks." After two years of sloshing in mud and dodging enemy fire, the Tennessee "hillbilly" was sent by army officials to Monteplier University in France, where he mixed tactical studies with Texas leaguers, playing baseball with a doughboy nine.

Honorably discharged following the Armistice, Moore re-entered the coaching profession and continued his tutoring achievements at LaGrange (Georgia) High School, and later at Allen Military Academy at Bryan, Texas.

With a minimum of experience and a maximum of gall, Bernie flipped a coin, called for heads, and joined the ranks of college mentors at Sewanee—even though the monetary piece landed with the eagle nested on top.

After four years as line coach and head track coach at the University of the South, fortune beckoned and Bernie accepted the head mentor spot at Mercer University. During his three years stay as sports ring master of the Bears, Moore elevated the sports prestige of Mercer to greater and glorious heights.

It was at this diminutive Georgia institution that Moore coached Phoney Smith, regarded by many authorities, as Dixie's greatest all-time halfback, who surpassed as runner, passer, kicker, and receiver deluxe. And it was also at Mercer that Moore, using his heart, rather than his head, awarded an athletic scholarship to a "sawed-off runt," who later became one of the south's greatest defensive ends, and who now reigns as one of the nation's leading coaches—Wally Butts, of the University of Georgia.

But about this time Moore decided to gamble again, but minus the frivolity of coin tossing lest it land the wrong way. Louisiana State was beating the bushes for a line coach and Bernie welcomed the make-or-break opportunity.

After 20 years of guiding the athletic destinies of Tigertown, he'll tell you the move was his biggest break—and he's made it pay off in a big way.

Moore succeeded Col. "Biff" Jones as head coach in 1935, and since then his Tiger gridders have won 78 victories, against 36 defeats, and bounded by five ties, by far the outstanding record of any coach at L. S. U., and against the university's most powerful array of opponents.

During his first 12 years at the helm, five of Moore's grid aggregations have played in New Year's Day classics.

Three times, 1936, 1937, and 1938, the Cinderella magic of Moore's mentoring carried the Tigers to Sugar Bowl games. Initiating the reputation of color, play, and close-scoring contests now carried as the torch by Sugar Bowl officials, Louisiana State bowed to T. C. U., 3-2, in its first January 1 encounter, then lost to Santa Clara in the next two tilts, 21-14 and 6-0. The 1943 team gave Old Lou her first bowl victory, defeating Texas A. and M., 19-14, in Miami's Orange classic. The Tigers last January played a scoreless tie with Arkansas in the Cotton Bowl.

Moore is believed to be the only mentor in the country who has coached teams in two different sports to national championship titles. His 1933 track and field team won the N. C. A. A. cinder crown at Chicago with only five men doing the scoring. His 1936 gridders were recognized universally as national champions and received the Deke Houlgate trophy, an award made to the mythical title holder.

Since the Southeastern Conference was formed in 1933, Moore's thinclads have copped 12 of the 16 championships, and the wily tutor has developed such world's record holders as Glenn "Slats" Hardin, quarter-miler and hurdler; Jack Torrance, the shot put king, and current holder of the world's record of 57.1; and Al Moreau, high hurdler.

His former star football pupils include twice-chosen All-American and Gaynell Tinsley, All-American Ken Kavanaugh, now playing with the Chicago Bears, and Steve Van Buren, the current ramrod runner for the Philadelphia Eagles.

But away from the cheers and jeers of the Saturday night crowds and absent from his blackboard-cluttered office, Bernie Moore the Man is quite different from the head-hanging, nervous, and excited perennial worrier that most coaches and folks in the allied field of sports really know.

His social versatility is second to none. One minute he'll drawl and chatter as would a corn-covered hillbilly, and the next minute will find him emitting gold-crusted words which Webster might have saved for a rainy day.

Bernie is the toast of the New Orleans Quarterback Club, and it has been said by many who partake of Captain Mike O'Leary's Monday gastronomical mystery that without Moore included on the menu there just wouldn't be any dessert to follow the verbal entres offered by other gridiron chefs.

Moore has few diversions. He likes to hunt and fish, is interested in livestock, and gets most of his pleasure in writing letters and renewing acquaintances of former L. S. U. athletes.

A maker of men as well as of teams, Bernie holds the distinction of having more aliases than any of his distinguished brethren in the coaching category. As literary tokens of well-meaning sports writers, he is characterized as cunning by sobriquets including "Foxy", "Possum", "Sly", and "Wily".

But the best remembered name in Bernie's book of memoirs is one Anna Louise Clark, a comely Phi Beta Kappa from Vanderbilt who became Mrs. Coach Moore "a few short years ago"—after finding out that a coach needs a coach for inspiration and consolation on Sunday mornings. And add to Mrs. Moore a pair of beautiful daughters, Ellen Elizabeth and Harrianne, and a son, Bernie, Jr., sunshine has always seemed more than plentiful in the Christian home of a great and respected coach, and the domicile of the merry Moore's.

SPORTS ROUND UP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, May 16.—(AP)—The doings this week-end should tell folks who are interested in college spring sports a lot about how the season will end. . . There are at least a half dozen important sectional track meets listed, for instance, and the bigwigs of the Southeastern and Southwest Conferences are gathering at the same time to discuss such things as their stands on the N. C. A. A. "purity code.". . . . Nick Kerbawy, beating the tom-toms for the first national collegiate baseball championship, lists Army, Texas and California as the current standouts with New York U., Georgetown, Navy, Holy Cross, Illinois, Michigan State, Clemson, Duke and Southern California among the leading contenders for tournament spots. The Southeast District has so many good teams they're planning a qualifying tournament at Charlotte, N. C., June 11. . . . Even the oarsmen will have it out today in the ten-crew eastern "sprint" championships, biggest pre-Poughkeepsie event. . . . and, of course, there's the varsity-old-timers football game at Notre Dame today.

Wanna Alpha-Bet?

"Mark my P's and Q's (predictions and quotes)", wires Col. Scoop Latimer of Greenville, S. C., "Clemson's Joes—Hazle and Landrum—who pitched the South Carolina college to Southern Conference leadership, will turn pros for jobs in the Brooklyn farm system this summer."

The Wurst Yet

Maine's Bob Elliot forwards this fish story: Warden Leon Ayer of Rockwood, Me., noticed greatly distended stomach's of a couple of togue caught by a visiting angler. . . The warden asked the gent to dress them out to see if the togue had been feeding on smelts coming down Moose River. . . "The smelts were there," Ayer reported. "But in one stomach was a whole frankfort, its skin unbroken.". . . . Probably the fish picked it up at a ball game.

Weak End Notes

Bobby Lawther, Louisiana State's decathlon star, spends his spare time raising watermelons on a half acre adjoining his campus hutment. . . . The Green Bay Packers' training camp gets its water supply from a 1,500-foot well drilled through a shelf of rock 470 feet thick. The shelf gave Curly Lambeau his ideas about the Packer line.

Shorts and Shells

Joe Vella, manager of Gus Lesnevich, has hired John Scarne, the card trick artist, to offset the Jimmy Grippo "hex" when Gus fights Melio Bettina next week. . . . Jimmy, Melio's pilot, is known for his card tricks and his hypnotic eye, Scarne, besides being a top "magician" is an authority on how to spot phony cards and dice. . . If he starts spotting phonies in the fight racket, there'll be a stampede for the doors. . . . The Rollins college crew will fly north for the Dad Vail regatta at Boston next week. Maybe the boys should borrow an engine from the plane. . . . Harry King, new American Association umpire, was born in England and never heard of baseball until he was ten years old. But he knows what to do about actions that "aren't cricket."

ANNUAL PIROGUE RACE SCHEDULED FOR TODAY

LAFITTE, La., May 17.—(AP)—Some 50 pirogue paddlers were expected to be on hand today for the annual Bayou Barataria race, an event which calls for a sure seat, plenty of muscle and a heart to go with it.

The time-honored pirogue, because of its slim lines and rounded bottom, is recognized as an extremely ticklish craft to handle. Then men who will churn over tomorrow's glassy four mile course in quest of more than $1,500 in cash and prizes, are master paddlers.

Hugh M. Wilkinson, general chairman of the race, has announced that some 20,000 Louisianians are expected to line the banks of the bayou to witness the contest. The fans, many of them French-speaking woodsmen with a relative or two in the race, are anything but passive. One year they made such a fuss that a participant who jumped the gun thought he was being cheered and paddled the entire course alone before realizing his misfortune.

The course over which the pirogues travel, begins at a point in the bayou near a country store and ends at big, gracious Fleming plantation. Pre-race arrangements will begin at 1:30 p. m. at the store, but because of the unhurried habits of the race committee it is difficult to say at exactly what time the actual paddling will commence.

Herbert Crepel, last year's champion, will return to defend his title.

He has said that the only opposition he fears is his brother Charles, who is a couple of years his junior. Two years can mean a lot over four miles of water, Herbert believes.

Sequoia National Park has more than 40 peaks over 13,000 feet high, including the nation's tallest, Mount Whitney, 14,495 feet.

GREENWOOD WINS

LAUREL, Miss., May 17.—(AP)—Trailing during the first 18 holes a quartet of youngsters representing the Greenwood High School put on the heat today in the final round to annex the High School Golf championship of the Big Eight Conference. The up-state golfers finished with a 674 score for the 36 holes. Laurel was runner-up with 692.

LITTLE 6 OPENS SCHEDULE TODAY

Opening Games At White's Ferry, Natchitoches Road, Cross Roads

Organized only four days ago, the Little Six Baseball League, an amateur organization of this area playing only Sunday ball, opens its season this afternoon with games at White's Ferry, Natchitoches Road, and Cross Roads.

Point will be at White's Ferry today while West Monroe meets Natchitoches Road on the Cloyd diamond, and Lapine invades Cross Roads.

Home openers for today's visiting clubs will be next Sunday when Natchitoches Road goes to Point, Cross Roads plays at West Monroe, and White's Ferry visits Lapine.

The Little Six, as first proposed by "Chic" Downing of West Monroe, who sold the other clubs on the idea, was organized last Wednesday night by J. D. Nolan, White's Ferry; Chester Hinton, Point, I. O. Beavers, Natchitoches Road; Ralph "Red" Sims, Lapine; and Downing. Cross Roads did not attend the meeting, but Cliff Dumas informed the league his club was ready to play.

Each club will be permitted to carry a roster of fifteen amateur players, including the manager.

A three-round schedule of fifteen games for each team was adopted at the meeting. The schedule will be concluded August 24 and the four leading teams on a percentage basis will then enter a Shaughnessy playoff for the league championship.

Semi-final and final series will go until one team wins two games. In the event of a tie for playoff positions, a single game will be played to determine the position.

SOLONS NUDGE TRIBE

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(AP)—Helbles before Red Embree's fast ball hurling for eight innings, the Washington Senators rallied to tie the score in the last half of the ninth and went on to win over the Cleveland Indians, 2 to 1, today in a ten-inning battle.

Pinch-hitter Sherry Robertson's single in the extra frame, scoring Gerald Priddy, accounted for the winning run.

The Indians got to Bobo Newsom in the first inning for their only run on singles by Hal Peck and George Metkovich and Lou Boudreau's long fly to Buddy Lewis.

PONDS SUPPLY WATER

Dew ponds, built on the downs of England, furnish a never-failing supply of drinking water for sheep, even though no rain falls for months. The water level is believed to be maintained by condensation of atmospheric moisture.

BRAVES IN FRONT

ST. LOUIS, May 17.—(AP)—Given masterful pitching by Lefty Warren Spahn, the Boston Braves took over first place in the National League by edging the St. Louis Cardinals 3-2 today before 7,327 spectators. The Cards won the series, two games to one.

Spahn registered his sixth straight victory without a defeat while Howie Pollet, the league's best pitcher last year, lost his fifth game in six starts.

Red Catcher Phil Masi was the hitting star.

REMATCH

Mobley lost the belt right back to Curtis.

"They both know they can't beat me he-man style," Canny continued. "If we just get a referee that really understands the game and don't pay any attention to the spectators who root for and favor the sissies and lollypop eaters, we'd soon see who is the best wrestler. If the referee gives me a fair deal, I'll sure be the champion after the match, and willingly give Curtis $100 for the chance. I don't have $100 bills to throw away either, but that shows how much I think about my chances to win."

Promoter Kallio, predicting the match will be a "natural," discussed with Commissioner Dave Silverstein the question of the referee, and was informed to get a new referee if possible. Kallio said he would attempt to find a new referee, or might appoint one of the semi-final grapplers to handle the show if Canny objects to the work of Bill Barney, Kallio's regular ring official.

Allen Parker, former state champion who defeated Canny in the Louisiana title tournament and has yet to lose to the Kansas City terror, entered a challenge to Canny for the state title but, when informed the world's title match was on instead, he accepted a match with Chris Belkas, Greek tussler of Toledo, Ohio, in the semi-final event.

Kallio is promising the winner of the Parker-Belkas match a chance at Canny's state title soon, but Kallio has promised some of the other boys a similar match only to have Canny choose his own. One such build-up recently was a Billy Hickson-Walter Stratton match, and the winner has yet to face Canny.

EVANGELINE LEAGUE

A'S SMOTHER NATCHEZ

ABBEVILLE, La., May 17.—(AP)—The Abbeville Athletics unlimbered their heavy artillery here tonight and when hostilities ceased the Natchez Indians were smothered under a 13 to 6 score.

Relief Pitcher Jones, who went in for the Athletics in the third after the Indians had run up a 5 to 1 score, held the visitors to four scattered hits in the remaining innings.

Yanak, newly acquired left fielder for the winners, grabbed off hitting honors with four safeties in five times at the plate.

Score by innings:

Natchez	014	001	000—	6	11	3
Abbeville	011	350	21x—13	19	0

Lee, Deforge and Scerotko; Richard, Jones and Oglesby.

STICKS CRUSH BERRIES

BATON ROUGE, La., May 17.—(AP)—The Baton Rouge Red Sticks humbled the league leading Hammond Berries 9 to 7 today in a stormy, argument-filled game in which Manager Paul Bruno of the Berries was chased by Umpire Kittrell in the sixth inning.

Hammond managed to get to Carl Schulte for twelve safeties, but ten strikeouts by the Baton Rouge right-hander helped him out of some tough spots. However, too many Hammond errors, particularly in the outfield, gave the Red Sticks five unearned runs.

Bruno was banished when he argued too vigorously over what appeared to be an attempted bunt by a Baton Rouge batter in the sixth.

Score by innings:

Hammond	010	100	500—	7	12	8
Baton Rouge	201	042	00x—	9	9	1

Hancock, Cureau and O'Conner; Schulte and Isringhaus.

Dangers in Cold Wave Kits
An investigation by the Board of Control of Cosmetic Therapy reveals that dermatitis, irritation and damage to the hands and scalp may result from the chemicals used in Cold Wave Kits. These ill effects have been attributed to the thioglycollic acid in the Cold Waving solution.
A neutralizing solution is also applied which usually consists of citric or phosphoric acid and occasionally acetic acid, which stop the plasticizing action of the waving fluid. If the waving solution is allowed to remain on the hair too long, it will soften the hair to the point of disintegration.
The so called "Home Permanent Wave" places these chemicals in the hands of the untrained and inexperienced which may result in disaster to the user. The Journal of the American Medical Association and other leading magazines have reported cases of thioglycollic acid poisoning, dermatitis and damages to the hair and scalp resulting from the use of Cold Wave solutions. In one instance, a person using the process for the first time did not use the correct solution and for five or six weeks her hair came out in bunches until she was completely bald. It was almost a year before her hair grew out again. For these reasons the Board of Control recommends that the use of the Cold Wave process be left to a highly skilled and competent beauty operator.
The laws of this state relating to the practice of cosmetic therapy serve to protect the public in this regard by prohibiting the practice of cosmetic therapy (which is defined as including permanent waving, finger waving, etc.) by anyone other than a duly qualified and licensed beautician, and providing for a fine of $50.00 to $100.00 and or ten to thirty days imprisonment for a violation of such law.

MRS. BRIGHT IS MONROE'S GUEST

Nationally Famous Woman Will Be Active In Florists' Meet

Mrs. Tommy Bright is nationally known in all floral circles of the nation. She explains that she was born in the industry, her grandfather was a wholesale grocer, her father a retail florist and landscape architect. She owned and operated a floral shop in downtown Chicago for many years but sold it so her husband could enter armed service as pilot and instructor in the air forces.

When he was killed in service, she resumed her school of floral design. Mrs. Bright has traveled in 40 states and in Canada lecturing and demonstrating floral design under the auspices of the F. R. D. A., S. A. F. State Florist Association.

Right now with approval of Uncle Sam she is training veterans along with regular other students.

She has given much time to flower styling for fashion shows, local and national and magazine photography. She has done some work with Crippled Children's schools and Girl Scouts to encourage them to a better way of life through flowers.

Flower arrangements for the late President Roosevelt were performed by Mrs. Bright who also was called upon to arrange floral displays for visiting royalty of Europe through the auspices of the Allied Florists Association of Chicago and recently made Leis for the governor of Hawaii which were flown to him. At the recent International Flower show in Chicago she won the gold medal for the American Carnation Society, using 4,000 carnations daily.

LOCAL ECONOMY HIT BY CANCER

Business Men Asked To View Disease As U. S. Menace

Local business men are being asked to view the cancer problem from an economic standpoint, said J. R. Plaisance, chairman of Ouachita parish, in an appeal for the public's stepped-up support of the American Cancer Society's campaign, which will run through May until quotas are reached.

"Aside from the tragic loss of life, the grief and sorrow of loved ones," Plaisance said, "cancer poses a problem in economics which is staggering.

"The cost of cancer in this community is difficult to evaluate to the dollar, but it is estimated that cancer costs the people of Ouachita parish many dollars.

"This is a conservative summing up of the financial loss to the families of cancer victims in this one community every year, and represents only the cost of medical treatment, care, hospitalization, death expenses, and loss of earning power during illness.

"Nothing is included for the actual cost of human life, which is beyond estimation.

"Cost of cancer to the nation as a whole amounts to an excess of $000,000,000 annually, the American Cancer Society national office figures. If this amount were expanded by the inclusion of the potential earning power of 180,000 victims of cancer annually, the overall figure would be in the billions.

"Nine hundred ninety-five people died of cancer in Orleans parish in 1946, and this includes only people who live here. Deaths from cancer in institutions are reported back to the particular parish in which the victim lives, and is counted in on that parish's statistics."

This economic loss will undoubtedly increase unless the American Cancer Society can maintain its educational, research and service program through gifts for next year's operation. Going to a doctor in time for early treatment, having regular physical examinations, and knowledge of the seven danger signals, are the three important facts stressed in the educational campaign to save lives.

Dr. George Wright of Monroe, first vice-president of the Louisiana State Medical Society, holding its 67th annual convention in New Orleans last week, presided at sessions, in the absence of Dr. Rhett McMahon, president, who is hospitalized.

Dr. Wright praised the efforts of the American Cancer Society in the education of the public on the seven danger signals of cancer, and in the importance of routine physical examinations at six-month or yearly intervals.

"Physicians of the state are solidly behind this campaign," he said, "because we know the importance of the work. Laymen and doctors combine their efforts in the saving of lives. In many communities, doctors are chairmen of the drive, and in every parish there are doctors working actively in the fund-raising program. The combination of surgery, X-ray and radium which the medical profession is now using to effect cancer cures, will be augmented in the future by the results of research now being made possible through the public's gifts to the American Cancer Society."

MUSIC SERIES COLLEGE PLAN

This Afternoon Talented W. H. Huckabay To Be Presented

Spring attractions at Northeast Junior College are including a series of programs given by the music department under direction of William P. Grant. On the list of features are concerts which students majoring in various phases of music are being presented.

In this afternoon's recital William H. Huckabay will give a program of piano and organ music at 3 o'clock in the recital room of the fine arts building. The public is invited to hear this young musician without admission charge.

Huckabay is the son of Dr. and Mrs. L. L. Huckabay of Mer Rouge where he is a junior in high school. Before enrolling at Northeast Junior College for music study, Huckabay had been a piano pupil of Mrs. C. B. Armstrong of Mer Rouge and Mrs. J. B Spier of Bastrop. He has also studied piano under Dr. Karol Liszniewski during several summers at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music. It was in Cincinnati that Mr. Huckabay began his study of organ with Parvin Titus. Work on this instrument has been continued at the local college with Mr. Grant and James F. Monroe of the N. J. C. music faculty, who is his present teacher. He has been a piano pupil of Mrs. Florence Ziegler Allbritton, assistant professor of piano, during the past two years.

Today's recital program includes the following numbers: Gagliarda by Bernhard Schmid, Benedictus by Francois Couperin, Canzona in D Minor by Johann S. Bach, Sonata, Op. 40, No. 1 by Ludwig von Beethoven and comprising Allegro molto e con brio, Adagio molto, Finale—Prestissimo; Cantabile in B Major by Cesar Franck, Sonata, Op. 65, No. 5 by Felix Mendelssohn and including Andante, Andante con moto, Allegro maestroso. The last number in this group is Pastorale, from Sonata in D Minor, Op. 42 by Alexandre Guilmant. Part four of the program comprises: Valse, Op. 32, No. 4, Nocturne, Op. 15, No. 1 and Polonaise, Op. 40, No. 2, all by Frederic Chopin; Liebestraum, No. 2 by Franz Liszt and Prelude, Op. 32, No. 6 by Sergei Rachmanoff.

In the last division of the recital Monroe will play "West Wind" (from the "Four Winds") by Alec Rowley and "The Kettle Boils" (from "Fireside Fancies," No. 9) by Joseph Clokey.

GROCERS, JOBBERS MAKE PRICE CUTS

Monroe grocers and grocer jobbers are supporting President Truman's nation-wide drive to lower prices by passing on to their customers the full decline in the prices of soaps manufactured by Lever Brothers, who recently reduced prices on all major soap products by ten per cent. This was in line with the president's suggestion.

Products involved include Lux toilet soap, Lux flakes, Rinso, Lifebuoy and Swan. These reductions followed a decline of two cents a pound in the price of Spry.

Dealers in a large number of instances have pledged themselves to pass on to their customers all subsequent declines in prices as they are received.

These dealers in North Louisiana who are making the cut as outlined are Brice's, Powell's, Guy Smart, Lester Carr, Gentry's Hearne and Jones, Salley Grocer Company, Drew Grocer Company, Baker, Lawhon and Ford, and Ritchie Grocer Company.

These firms are being complimented by Kemney Willis local Lever Bros. representative, on their decision to pass on to Mrs. Housewife the savings made possible by the decline on Lever Bros. soaps.

If Stomach Gas or Sour Food Taste Robs You of Sleep

Here's How You May Help, Whether You Eat 500 Pounds or 2000 Pounds of Food In a Year

You can't feel cheerful, be happy and sleep well, if your stomach is always upset. As age advances the "old stomach" needs more help. The reason is this:

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains very special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Harper-Tidwell Wedding Attracts Throngs Of Friends To Presbyterian Church

Miss Harper Is Lovely May Bride

Marriage Of Popular Young Couple Prominent Event Of Month Of May

Candlelight flooded the white carpeted aisle at the First Presbyterian church on the night of May 9 when Miss Margaret Ann Harper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Harper walked to the altar to the strains of Lohengrin to become the bride of Mr. Charles Ruffin Tidwell Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Tidwell. Rev. Ernest Holloway officiated.

Candles not only gleamed along the aisles of the church but flamed high against a verdant background of fern and English ivy hanging in picturesque lengths from the choir loft. Garden baskets overflowing with white asters and white gladioli formed a flowery enclosure for the wedding party on the platform adjoining the altar. Baskets of fowers also flanked the white carpeted steps leading to the platform. The junior groomsmen, Guy Campbell Jr., and Thomas Grant, lighted the tapers while the organist, Leon Hammond, rendered a brilliant prenuptial concert. Miss Betty Rinehart sang beautifully "I Love You Truly" and "Because." Following the ceremony she sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The maid of honor, Miss Patricia Ann Brann, wore a lovely floor length model of mousseline se soie with sweetheart neckline, short puffe sleeves and bouffant skirt. She carried an arm bouquet of spring flowers in all the rainbow colors.

The bridesmaids, Misses Ann Mallett, Patricia Grant, Faye Todd, Joy Bernhardt and Carolyn Peters, and the flower girl, Bennie Breese Grant, wore diaphanous gowns of mousseline in the rainbow colors and carried arm bouquets of rainbow hued flowers.

The groomsmen were Messers. Pete Peevy, Robert Underwood, H. V. Twiner, Carl Tidwell and Edward Koserog. The bridegroom's father served as best man.

The bride's bouffant gown of white French illusion was reminiscent of Southern summer-time weddings. It was beautifully appliqued with white satin and fashioned with a tight-fitting basque and long sleeves. The skirt, extremely full, was appliqued in satin and ended in a long train over which fell the wedding veil caught to the hair with a coronet of seed pearls. Her only ornament was the bridegroom's wedding gift, a strand of beautiful pearls.

The bride carried her great grandfather's prayer book. It was surmounted with a spray of white orchids and lillies of the valley.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the ball room of the Virginia Hotel. Mrs. Harper, the bride's mother, received in a lovely evening model of aqua with long blue gloves. She wore a corsage of lavendar orchids. Mrs. Tidwell, the bridegroom's mother, received in flesh colored lace evening model with deep net yoke. She also wore orchids.

Individual wedding cakes and iced frappe was served the guests from a beautifully appointed table centered with an elaborate wedding cake.

For sentimental reasons the reception at the Virginia Hotel was followed by an informal reception at the Harper home for members of the family and a few intimate friends. It was the birthday anniversary of the bridegroom's mother and a beautifully embossed birthday cake was cut and served the guests. Gifts were presented the celebrant at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Tidwell left for a honeymoon in Florida and will later be at home to their friends in this city. The bride traveled in a smart gold colored, light weight wool model with black accessories and a corsage of orchids.

The bride, an attractive member of the younger set, attended the Louisiana State University. She is a member of Kappa Delta sorority.

Mr. Tidwell is a graduate of Kemper Military Academy and attended Louisiana Tech. He is now associated with the Louisiana Tractor Co.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Preaus, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Preaus, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Preaus, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Dykes, Dr. and Mrs. W. O. Roberts of Farmerville; Mr. and Mrs. Alyn Bell of Belcher, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Fay Brann of Monticello, Ark.; Mrs. L. S. McFaddin, Leonard McFaddin of St. Louis, Mo.; Mrs. George Mallett of Houston, Texas; Mr. H. Perkins of Alexandria; Mr. John Lyles of Alexandria, and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Israel of St. Louis.

Paul Palmer, Jr., of Farmerville, celebrated his fifth birthday by inviting a number of his young friends to a circus party. The guests arrived, each bearing a beautifully wrapped gift. They were displayed on a table cleverly decorated with the circus colors of red, blue and yellow.

The children were invited out of doors, where games were introduced for their entertainment. John and Jo Mary Tettleton won the prizes.

Later the children gathered around the tea table centered with a novel "merry-go-round" birthday cake. Clown cups filled with candy were distributed and the favors were clown hats.

Ices and individual birthday cakes were served with punch to the celebrant and: Mikie Rabun, Joe Dexter Albritton, Eddie Albritton, Jo Mary Tettleton, Elton Upshaw, Jr., Rosemary Upshaw, Ray Alexander, Rodney Happer, Jon Yelton, Francis Read, Janice Murphy, Judy Neal, Pauline Odom, Jerry Tettleton, Johnny Tettleton, Carolyn Cummings, Freddie Futch, Pam Dykes, Jeanette Long, Mitzie Baughman, Ronnie Dean, Palmer Dean Jr., Johnny Norris, Donnie Gates, Tommy Baird, Bruece Baird, Eugene Preaus, Lita Tugwell, Norma Ann Turner, Carol Poyce Weaver, Dianne Green, Donna Sue Green, Billy Rex Green, Johnny Kelley, Jackie Lee Pickel, Mrs. John W. MRS. SAM LEVY IS THE GUEST SPEAKER AT MEETING OF JUNIOR LITERARY CLUB

The Junior Literary Club, of Rayville, was hostess at a Silver Tea in the flower adorned home of Mrs. George C. Purvis. The Lambda Kappa Club and the Rayville Literary Club were guests on this occasion, and Mrs. Sam Levy, of Natchitoches, president of the Louisiana Federation of Women's Clubs, was the featured speaker on the program.

Mrs. Lee Edward Ineichen, president of the Junior Literary Club welcomed the guests, assisted by Mrs. W. C. Cotton, sponsor of the Junior Literary Club, and Mrs. Purvis, hostess. The tea was an outstanding social event for the Rayville clubs, which are closely related in interests and club connections. The Lambda Kappa Club, of which Mrs. Robert R. Rhymes is president, organized the Rayville Literary Club, which is headed by Mrs. H. S. Mangham, as president. In turn, the Rayville Literary organized the Junior Literary Club as one of their major projects during this club year.

The many club women present were delighted with the inspirational and informative talk given by Mrs. Levy. In her talk Mrs. Levy gave the history of the General Federation of Women's Club which was organized in New York in 1889 with seventeen states and sixty-one clubs present. "Unity in Diversity" was chosen as the slogan at this meeting and has been considered such an appropriate slogan that it is still used to this date. The General Federation of Women's Clubs is the largest organized group of women in the world. It is composed of 18,500 clubs, with 44 foreign and territorial clubs and a membership of 3,500,000.

The Louisiana Federation was organized in Shreveport in 1899 with twelve clubs, which have added to their number through the years and the Louisiana Federation now has 148 clubs.

Mrs. Levy paid tribute to the pioneer women whose vision and courage enabled them to see that women organized, could accomplish what no woman could do alone, and that clubs organized and united could accomplish what no one club could do. She told how Louisiana club women were trying to support the United Nations and were striving to bring about International Unity by participating in the following projects: UNFSCO, the contributing of school supplies to China and Korea, adopting a foreign or territorial club, contributing to the Walter Reed Hospital birthday fund to provide birthday cakes for war veterans, participating in the March of Dimes, working for the Cancer fund, supporting pending legislation which would provide Federal aid to libraries. She particularly urged the Junior club to support the two projects that are being sponsored by Juniors throughout Federation, namely, to encourage veterans who have dropped the National Service Life Insurance Company to renew this insurance, and to adopt a foreign or territorial club, in the interest of peace and unstanding throughout the world.

Mrs. Levy said that she was particularly impressed with the outstanding leadership that has been produced by the Rayville clubs, and the excellent work in the Fifth District that has made the Rayville clubs the outstanding clubs in the District on numerous occasions. She congratulated the three clubs for their years of service and the three generations of clubs that were represented.

The clubs were further honored by the presence of Mrs. H. B. Stovall, a member of the Woman's Club of Natchitoches, who drove to Rayville with Mrs. Levy, and who also expressed her pleasure at seeing such a representative group of club women at the meeting.

Music for the occasion was furnished by Mrs. Kermit L. Walters, who played as the guests assembled and during the tea hour. Mrs. Robert R. Rhymes presided at the beautifully appointed tea table, assisted by the members of the Junior Club.

The flowers adorning the Purvis home were furnished by Mrs. Carl Earle and Mrs. George Franklin and arranged by Mrs. George Franklin.

The honor guests were presented with corsages by Mrs. Orville Cox and Mrs. George Bolton Jr.

Members of the club in charge of the refreshments were Mrs. Joseph Herbert, Mrs. Lasley Richardson and Miss Lulu Newberry.

Miss Tuminello Is The Bride Of Mr. Ticheli

An interesting nuptial event took place at St. Matthew's Catholic church when Miss Antoinette Tuminello, daughter of Mrs. James Tuminello of Chicago, Ill., became the bride of Mr. Mike Ticheli. Father Lawrence Bonan, assistant pastory of St. Mathew's church, was the celebrant of the nuptial mass.

Mr. Frank Ticheli and Mr. Jack Russo served as ushers. Rendering the sacred ceremony more impressive was the solo, "Ave Marie," sung by Miss Lena Scrara, accompanied by the organist, Mrs. Della Williamson.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Frank Tuminello, wore a beautiful gown of white Duchess satin, with a fitted bodice. Her short veil, scalloped with seed pearls, formed a coronet crown. She carried a beautiful bouquet of Madonna lilies.

Mrs. Frank Ticheli, matron of honor, wore a gown of blue net, and the bridesmaid, Mrs. Raymond Sweet and Miss Joyce Danna, wore yellow net gowns. Miss Antoinette Gardner, flower girl, wore a floor length gown of pink net. Mr. Nazie Scara served as best man, and Mr. Raymond Sweet as groomsman. Anthony Russ of Camden, Ark., was the ring bearer.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Ticheli, parents of the groom.

The bride's table was overlaid with a handsome imported lace cloth. The wedding cake was a superb confection beautifully embossed, and flanked by tall white tapers in silver candelabra. White camellias formed a border encircling the table.

Immediately after the reception the bride and groom left on their honeymoon.

MRS. TISDALE ADDRESSES LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS ON SUBJECT OF IMPORTANCE

Mrs. A. D. Tisdale of this city is back from Washington, D. C., where she represented the Louisiana League of Women Voters at a meeting of the Council, with interesting comments on the attack on reciprocal trade.

Mrs. Tisdale, addressing the Monroe League of Women Voters at a recent meeting said: "The league voted to oppose indirect attacks on the reciprocal trade program, and to fight the $150 million reduction in the appropriation for carrying on relief in war devastated countries.

"The league council pointed out that the original appropriation of $350 million was a minimum required to meet the need which is more serious than had been anticipated due to extremely bad harvests. The council further emphasized that the United States, when it failed to support the continuation of UNRRA, assumed responsibility for carrying on relief itself for at least another year."

Mrs. Tisdale also quoted the state president, Mrs. R. G. Robinson of New Orleans who was also in attendance at the meeting in Washington. She said: "The indirect attack on the reciprocal trade programs is illustrated in S. 814. The bill gives the secretary of agriculture the power to impose 'fees' up to 50 per cent of the value of imported wool and woolen products—in addition to the regular tariff—if he finds such products are selling or are likely to sell at prices lower than the domestic support prices."

"Such a law would completely nullify any reduction in the wool tariff which the United States might grant in return for important concessions at the Geneva conference. One of our primary bargaining tools is the wool is a significant export of British commonwealth countries. At best only one-third of the wool used in this country is produced here, so such an additional tariff will burden the wool consumer and also undermine the entire program for reducing barriers to world trade all over the world."

MISS WILSON IS GUEST SPEAKER AT MEETING OF WELCOME BRANCH BOOK CLUB

Members of the Welcome Branch of the Twentieth Century Book Club were privileged to have Miss Blanche Wilson, president of Fifth District Louisiana Federated Women's Clubs, as their guests speaker when they met in the home of Mrs. E. A. Porter, 1014 North Second, Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. M. R. Hausherr assisted as co-hostess.

An additional feature was the group of songs by American composers rendered by Mrs. A. M. Serex, guest artist, who is widely known throughout Louisiana for her beautifully cultivated soprano voice of operatic proportions. As gracious as she is talented, her services are in great demand among groups that appreciate artistic achievement.

Miss Wilson, who journey from her home in Sicily Island to participate in the club's Federation Day program, gave an informative talk on "Years of Achievement Through Federation." She said in part: "Charles Dickens can be considered father of Federation, because during his sojourn in the United States in 1868, women were not allowed at the meeting to hear him speak. Three women became so incensed over this outrage that they formed a group called the Sorosis Club. Their fame rapidly spread to other states, thus causing many other clubs to organize, and in 1890 the first General Federation was born in New York. The State of Louisiana was included as one of the states in 1902."

"During 57 years of splendid achievement, many outstanding projects have been launched, including the sponsoring of 85 per cent of the libraries, advocating loan scholarships, revision of naturalization laws, sponsoring school lunches and supporting public health programs."

"The American home has been foremost in a broad program stressing sanitation and nutrition in relation to the pure food and drug act."

"In relation to war service, over three million dollars worth of bonds were sold, and one hundred wedding gowns for war brides were sent overseas. Women have been included in the peace plans through Mrs. LaFell Dickenson, our national president. Through foreign contacts, she has been in touch with women throughout the world. Art, literature, music and drama have been stressed through the penny art fund. Outstanding achievement since Louisiana was admitted to the General Federation is our enacted legislation for libraries," concluded Miss Wilson.

Mrs. A. M. Serex, accompanied by Mrs. H. D. Holmes, sang "In the Dawn of an Indian Sky," by Ward Stevens; "The Years at the Spring" from "Pippa Passes," by Mrs. H. H. A. Beach, and "May Day Carol," an Essex folk song, arranged by Deems Taylor.

A quiz on Federation was conducted by Mrs. J. Norman Coon, program chairman.

During the business session, presided over by Mrs. A. S. Gunter, president, the proposed amendments to the club constitution and by-laws pertaining mainly to leaves of absence, were adopted.

Mrs. A. R. Doughty, corresponding secretary, read a communication from Director of Civil Relations, Richard P. Glass, Commodore of U. S. Navy, directing attention of club women to Naval Reserve Week, May 18 to 25. This Naval Reserve program is endorsed by Mrs. LaFell Dickenson, President of General Federation of Women's Clubs. A letter was also read from David Van Weel, of Rotterdam, the club's established foreign contact, expressing deep appreciation for the American magazines forwarded by the club as a means of acquainting our European neighbors with the American way of life. Mrs. Doughty concluded her correspondence report with the State President's, Mrs. Samuel Levy, monthly bulletin, stressing the importance of the American home, and of the necessity of preserving the ideals and integrity of the American family as a main factor in establishing peace and harmony at home and abroad.

The book "Christ and the Fine Arts," selected by the Memorial Book Committee in memory of deceased Welcome Branch members, to be placed in the Monroe Public Library, was presented to the club for inspection by Mrs. Zephyr W. Tarver, chairman. Mrs. Tarver, poet leaurate of the club, and also a past president, was instrumental in launching this new club project, which has received the approbation of the entire membership. In making her presentation she said: "A selection has been made by this committee, Mrs. Gibson, Mrs. White and myself, of a book to be placed in the Monroe Public Library in memory of those members of Welcome Branch Book Club who have passed on."

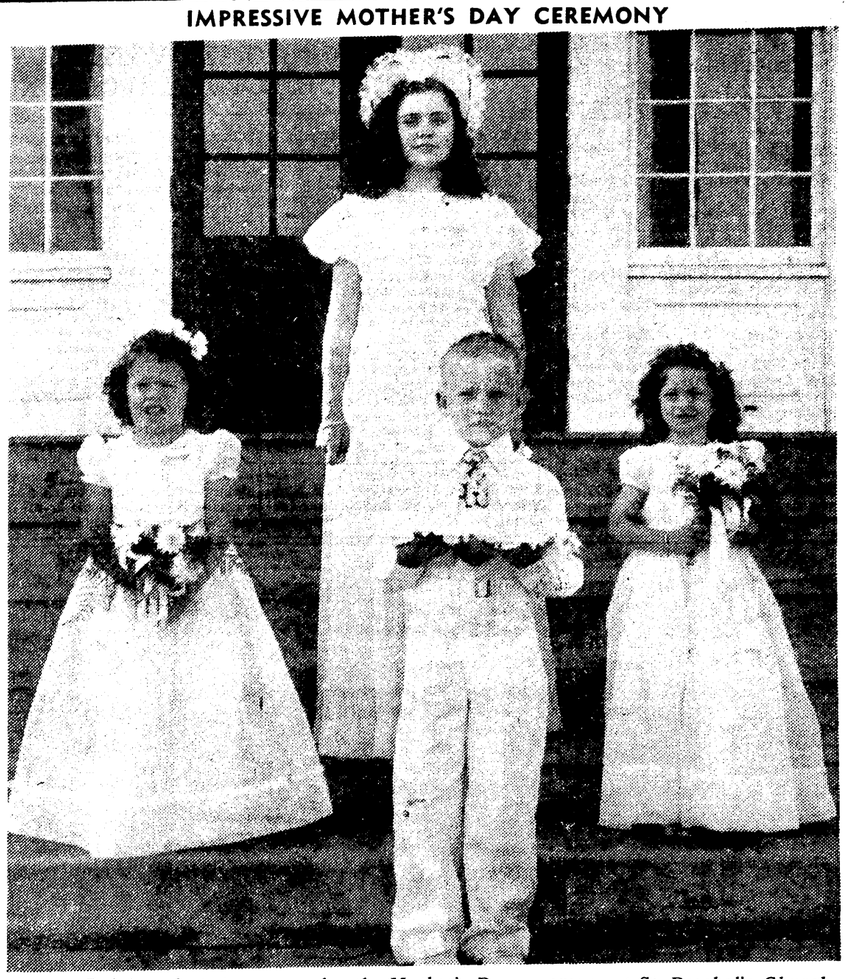
"It was my thought when making the suggestion that such a memorial be effected, that a special book be dedicated to each member—emphasizing in a way, the personality of that member. However, Mrs. Gibson had the splendid thought in proposing one book which will bring to our minds remembrance of Mrs. N. E. Dowson, Mrs. Ralph Gibson and Mrs. Clark Faulk. Anna Dawson, who was first to leave us, will be remembered by those in the early club days of 1932-34. A gracious woman of much personal charm, she was also a talented writer of verse."

"In Gertrude Gibson, who went away last spring, we recognized and admired her fine mind; she was a student of the classics; she spoke both German and French well. Of Gertie Faulk, whose recent going . . . a person so filled with vitality and the zest for living . . . overbrimming with gracious good humor . . . seems still to be among the quick . . . Her lovely poem, "I Heard a Voice From the Faraway," was a true expression of the real Gertie Faulk. Underlying her ready smile and jovial repartee was a deep spiritual prominence."

"The selected book, "Christ and the Fine Arts," was therefore chosen unanimously as one we believe typifies outstanding qualities of these beloved members of this club. Each made a distinct contribution to Welcome Branch Book Club. Each in her own way lives again in the pages of "Christ and the Fine Arts," one a student of poetry . . .one a student of the classics . . . and one a student of the fine art of living among her fellowmen."

During the social hour, the hostess, assisted by Mrs. E. A. Porter, Jr., served refreshments to the following members and guests: Mrs. F. E. Black, Mrs. Henson Coon, Mrs. J. Norman Coon, Mrs. A. R. Doughty, Mrs. J. D. Calhoun, Mrs. V. S. Garnett, Mrs. A. S. Gunter, Mrs. M. R. Hausherr, Mrs. H. D. Holmes, Mrs. E. Everett Lawson, Mrs. Thomas F. Jett, Mrs. Leola Nixon, Mrs. George Phebus, Mrs. E. A. Porter, Mrs. T. H. Scott, Mrs. Zell Smith, Mrs. A. J. Speer, Mrs. L. V. Tarver, Mrs. W. B. Wheelis, Mrs. J. R. White, and Mrs. Richard Whitehurst. Guests were: Mrs. A. M. Serex, Mrs. E. A. Porter, Jr., and Miss Blanche Wilson of Sicily Island.

IMPRESSIVE MOTHER'S DAY CEREMONY



Janette Daigle, selected as queen for the Mother's Day ceremony at St. Paschal's Church, West Monroe, is seen in the picture with the three attendants. They are, left to right, Charlene Shanas, Jackie Hummel and Veronica Hervey. These children, and forty-six others, took part in the colorful ceremony featuring the crowning of the Blessed Virgin, Mother of God. One hundred and fifty parishioners, or more, were in attendance to witness this impressive Mother's Day ceremony.

FAGAN COX SUBURBAN HOME IS THE SCENE OF CHARMING CLUB AFFAIR ON MONDAY

No where in the world does early summer come as engagingly as it does in Louisiana and especially here in Monroe where the Ouachita, fringed with overhanging trees of verdant green windes its way in picturesque bends and curves. In the gardens of the Fagan Cox home the river is seen to splendid advantage and was enjoyed to the fullest by members of the Review Club who were met out-of-doors by the hostess upon arrival.

Indoors where the program was presented, beautiful garden flowers were everywhere in evidence. Magnolias from the century-old trees in the gardens were arranged with artistry in the reception suits.

In the entrance hall guests were greeted by Mrs. D. M. Moore. Mrs. Cox, Mrs. DeWitt Henry and Mrs. J. P. Noel received in the library where a beautiful bouquet of Etoile de Hollande roses was reflected in a large mirror.

The guests, assembled for the afternoon's program of fine arts, were welcomed by the president, Mrs. Henry, who spoke of the meeting as a tradition of the club, handed down from the founders, and looked forward to with anticipatory delight because of the spirit, quality and tone of meetings of preceding years. At this time recognition was made of the two honorary members, Mrs. R. E. Major and Mrs. B. W. Leigh, who played a part in bequeathing the present members their heritage of lofty ideals. Included among the other guests who were recognized was Mrs. Leola Nixon, past fifth district president of Louisiana Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs E. P. Cudd, chairman, and her committee comprising the advisory board, were thanked for their untiring efforts in arranging the program, which was announced by Mrs. Cudd. The program included a review, by Miss Hazel Cline, of Shreveport, of the book, "The Left Hand Is The Dreamer," by Nancy Wilson Ross, and a group of selections by eleven girls of the Ouachita Parish High School choir.

Miss Cline, a graduate of Northwestern University, a former professor of speech in Centenary College, an assiduous Little Theatre worker, a clubwoman, for three years a member of the war production board, serving in Washington, D. C., a person of poise and charm was well-qualified and ably prepared to handle her choice of books, "The Left Hand Is The Dreamer." With a pleasing mien and soothing voice, the reviewer unfolded this story of a wistful woman, Frederika Perry, drowsing in the emotional indolence of a conventional marriage to Christopher Perry but from which she is roused from her hibernation in a small village in upstate New York by the kiss of Prince Charming.

As a child Frederika had gone to live with her wonderful Aunt Palm, whose clear, hard eye translated all creation into terms of beauty and truth and Frederika grew to watch her for signals to live by. Frederika married her cousin, Christopher. Aunt Palm's commonplace son. When the war broke out she was in her early thirties, bored, secure, with two handsome adolescent children and a husband she accepted as she accepted the weather. When her husband entered the service wise Aunt Palm said to Frederika: "Christopher wants to escape. He's bored. The war means nothing to him but escape does."

Restless and disoriented, Frederika decided to go back to her former college and work on her neglected painting, perhaps dust off her mind with a course in World History. It was in the history class that she met Franz Allers, a worn, ravaged man, far from, and still agonizing close, to the Vienna where his wife had been murdered by the Gestapo. He had seen a world die around him and wanted bitterly to die with it. Through this man, Frederika began to come alive, deepen her shallows and enter upon her ordeal.

Nancy Wilson Ross has vitalized this basic plot, so often abused and degraded by writers, making it a story of undercurrents of urgency and warning, translating it into a restless world of today causing readers to think of counterparts of its protagonist. It has dignity, significance and lasting qualities, along with being written in firm, fine prose.

The second part of the program was dedicated to the observance of National Music Week, and was introduced with the words of the Greek philosopher, Plato: "Music is to the mind as air is to the body. Music is a moral. It gives love to the universe, wings to the mind, flight to the imagination, a charm to sadness, gaiety and life to everything else. It is the essence of order and leads to all that is good, just and beautiful." A group of girls, members of the Ouachita Parish High School choir, under the able direction of Miss Velma Nichols, delighted their listeners with several well-chosen and well-received selections including:

"A Pretty Girl Is Like a Melody," by Irving Berlin; "Bouree," by Sebastian Bach; "Minnelied," by Johannes Brahms; "I'll See You Again," from Noel Coward's "Bitter Sweet."

The quality of work which has won for the group and the director, Miss Velma Nichols, state-wide as well as southern-wide recognition was evidenced in the presentation of the afternoon's program.

For the tea hour which followed the guests were invited to the spacious porch, overlooking the gardens. The tea table had for central decor American Beauty roses and candyturf. The table was overlaid with imported linen cloth of pale blue elaborately embroidered in white. Strawberry punch was poured from the crystal punch bowl by Mrs. Leola Nixon and confections were served by Mrs. C. P. Gray, Jr., Mrs. F. V. Barnett and Mrs. Paul Neal.

Guests and club members privileged to enjoy this open meeting were: Mrs. Theodore Moore, Mrs. V. S. Garnett, Mrs. Ray Foster, Mrs. J. A. Bailey, Mrs. Zell Smith, Mrs. J. R. White, Mrs. O. L. Holloway, Mrs. Walter Rhodes, Mrs. Leola Nixon, Mrs. A. M. Serex, Mrs. C .P. Gray, Sr., Mrs. A. E. Montgomery, Mrs. R. E. Major, Sr, Miss Hazel Cline, Mrs. Fagan Cox, Miss Velma Nichols, Miss Mary Bays Serex, Miss Billye Durbin, Miss Evelyn Smith, Miss Nelda Monroe, Miss Martha McDonald, Miss Edwina Albritton, Miss Floy Pylant, Miss Earline Hammer, Miss John Anne Lewis, Miss Beryl DeLoach, Miss Libby Mulhearn, Mrs. F. PARISH HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS WILL BE PRESENTED IN THE FIRST ANNUAL CLASS PLAY

Excitement is running high these days at Ouachita Parish high school. Rehearsals for the senior play, "Skidding," to be presented May 20 in the O. P. H. S. auditorium are in full swing. The sale of tickets, under the direction of Mrs. Malcolm LeFevre, has also begun.

"Skidding" is the story of a typical American family in Idaho. This story of the lovable Andy Hardy family is full of humor, pathos and philosophy. The whole story is based on Judge Hardy's campaign for the office of district judge. Mariam, his daughter, plays an important role by making a political speech for him and ends up by having to choose between a political career and love. She is afraid to marry because of the example set by Estelle and Myra, her married sisters, who have left their husbands and returned home to mother. In the last act evidence of Grandpa's influence is shown by conclusions drawn by all members of the cast.

The cast for the play is as follows: Andy Hardy, Donald Barnes; Judge Hardy, Bobby Joe Jackson; Mother Hardy, Violet Rea Wilbanks; Myra and Estelle, Virginia Brady and Jean Johnston; Grandpa Hardy, Jimmy Pettit; Stubbins, J. W. Touchstone; Mariam Hardy, Doris Rae Jones; Wayne Trenton, Danny Christman, and Aunt Milly, Marna Hynum.

The advertising committee is composed of Carolyn Bagwell, chairman; Jimmy Hines, Anna Marie Perry, Patsy Mims, Joe Perdue and Fred Huenefeld. The properties are to be handled by Geraldine Jones, Evelyn Cowan, Yvonne Whittington. The stage manager is Donald Johnson and the furniture will be supplied by Durrett's, West Monroe; New York Funiture Company and Sears Roebuck and Company.

The set for the play is being constructed by members of the drama and speech classes while the art class is in charge of the posters placed in the store windows.

MARRIAGE OF MISS JOHNSON AND MR. JERRY I. LOVE IS OF INTEREST TO FRIENDS

A wedding of interest to friends throughout this section of the state took place April 19 when Miss Dorothy Roan Johnson became the bride of Mr. Jerry I. Love at the First Presbyterian church this city, with the pastor, Rev. Ernest Holloway performing the impressive double-ring ceremony in the presence of a large concourse of friends and relatives.

Beautiful flowers banked the altar and entwined the chancel rail and choir loft. At the appointed hour a nuptial concert was rendered by the organist.

The bride's attendant, Mrs. Dorothy Hemler Coates, wore a black afternoon model fashioned with a draped skirt. She wore a black off-the-face hat and blue gloves. Her corsage of scarlet roses was tied with blue satin ribbon.

The bridegroom's attendant was Mr. S. Johnnie Bayles of West Monroe.

The bride wore a beautiful model of dove gray gabardine with gray hat trimmed with pale green veiling. She carried a superb bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Immediately following the ceremony an informal reception was held and the bride's two sisters, Mrs. J. L. Duffy and Mrs. Lamar Hayden served a variety of delicious confections and frosted frappe.

Mrs. Love recently returned to Monroe from San Francisco, where she was employed as junior executive secretary to the vice-president and general manager of Joseph Magnin, Inc., nationally advertised women's specialty shops. Prior to moving to the west coast she attended school and was employed in this city.

Mr. Love, formerly of Bossier City, is a partner of the Ouachita Valley Wholesale Produce Company in Monroe.

As a part of the "Y-Week" and of youth week celebration all the Y-teens of the Y. W. C. A. (one of the agencies of the Twin City Community Chest) gathered at the "Y", 1515 Jackson street for a rally during the day and for an "open house" during the evening.

The rally was opened with a song: "We Would Be Building," Miss Lee Joyner, assistant to the pastor of the First Methodist Church, gave an inspiring and interesting devotional on "Builders for Peace." The picture: "This Is Louisiana"—a production by the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, Louisiana Division, was then shown. This lovely and most informative picture was enjoyed to the fullest. Informal groups for discussion, for games, for singing, and for dancing and then later for lunch were seen scattered all about the "Y" building and on the grounds. After lunch the group gathered out of doors in the garden for the Installation Ceremonial at which the new officers for 1947-48 were recognized. Carolyn Bagwell, President of Inter-Club Council of Y-Teens, was the Leader for the Ceremonial. Gail Ates read the scripture: Psalm 19. The following officers were recognized: President of Inter-Club Council, Nancy Johnson; Triads Club President and Vice President, Jackie Barr and Joan Bandy; Blue Circle Club President and Vice President, Claudette Schroeder and Jane Steed; Kumjoynus-Blue Triangle Club President and Vice President, Mary Gertrude Rodriquez and Betty Jane Pettit; Y'd Awake Club President and Vice President, Barbara Monroe and Dorothy McCormick. 'Open House" was held at the "Y" during the evening from 7:30 to 10.

Miss Mary E. Bergevin Is Lovely April Bride

Prominent Nuptial Event Takes Place At St. Matthew's Church In This City

Claiming interest among the many beautiful nuptial events of April was the marriage of Miss Mary Elizabeth Bergevin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonze B. Bergevin, and Mr. Edward Francis Dalton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Dalton of Sterling, La., April 19, at St. Matthew's Catholic Church at ten o'clock in the morning with Monseigneur J. C. Marsh officiating.

At the nuptial hour the candles, myriads of them in tall floor candelabra were lighted. They were silhouetted against a background of white blossoms overflowing from baskets and classic shaped urns.

Mr. Leon Hammond, organist, rendered a brilliant prenuptial concert and accompanied the soloist, Mr. Charles W. Bigger who sang Schuberts Ave Amaria and Panis Angelicus.

Mrs. John Edward Thompson, of McComb, Miss., wearing a pink marquisette model fashioned with long, full, sleeves and bouffant skirt, served as matron of honor. She carried a Colonial bouquet of daisies in all the pastel shades.

The maid of honor, Miss Dorothy Dalton of Shreveport, wore a blue marquisette model, an exact replica of the gown worn by Mrs. Thompson. She also carried a Colonial bouquet of pastel colored daisies.

Mr. Oswald Bigger served as best man and the groomsmen were: Messers. Robert Dalton, S. E. Burgoyne, S. W. Engstrom, F. B. Shipp and I. P. Robinson.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a beautiful white satin wedding gown reminiscent of the gay '90's with its elaborately draped skirt with pleated ruffles and a bodice fashioned with a high neck line and three-quarted length sleeves trimmed with pleated ruffles. The veil of illusion falling beyond the long train, was caught to the hair with a chaplet of white hyacinth.

The bride's bouquet was fashioned of white iris and white orchids tied with long lengths of tulle and white satin ribbons.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Bergevin home where considerable beauty of decoration was noted. Mrs. Bergevin received the guests in a gray and white sheer model with small blue flowered hat and corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Dalton, the bride-groom's mother, wore a black and aqua print model with large hat of black lace. She wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Harry G. Frazer, presiding at the bride's table; wore a navy blue and beige model and Mrs. W. F. Bronsell, assisting, wore a navy blue sheer model. Both wore corsages of carnations.

After the bride and groom cut their wedding cake they left for a honeymoon on the Gulf coast and New Orleans. The bride traveled in a handsome tailleur of beige gabardine with pink and brown accessories and a corsage of orchids.

The young couple are now at home to their friends at 408 Rochelle.

The bride is a graduate of Ursuline college in New Orleans, La. She is a member of the Fine Arts club and is a prominent figure in local art circles.

Mr. Dalton is a graduate of Northeast Junior college. He served with the army air corps and is a member of the Captain Reserve Officer's association. He is now office manager of the United Carbon Company.

Mrs. T. C. Starnes will review the book, "Black Fountains," by Oswald Wynd, winner of the Doubleday's $20,000 prize novel award. DALTON-BERGEVIN WEDDING ATTENDANTS

Miss Dorothy Dalton and Mrs. John Edward Thompson who served as maid of honor and matron of honor for Miss Mary Elizabeth Bergevin when she became Mrs. Edward Francis Dalton.

Purely Personal

One never knows where to find old friends these days so rapidly are homes being sold and necessitating the change of address. Mrs. Paul Fudickar and son Paul Fudickar Jr., will soon be established in the home they recently purchased from the Richard Kelloggs on Bright avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg and young son will again take up residence in the home partially destroyed by fire several years ago. It's such a beautiful home it seemed a pity to see it unoccupied by this interesting little family for so long a time. Due to government restrictions, building during the war was impossible but very soon now this home, one of the really fine residences of which the city boasts, will be restored to its former grandeur.

Isn't it nice to pick up a national magazine and see the face of someone you know smiling at you? In the May issue of House and Garden several pages are devoted to pictures and detailed description of Mr. and Mrs. Wolfgang Fyler's beautiful country home at Kitchawan, N. Y. Mrs. Fyler is the former Miss Dorothy Calvert of West Monroe, you know. She and her husband visited in the Calvert home last month and were graciously welcomed by Mrs Fyler's old friends. The name of the Fyler's home is "Hidden Brook." The name is most appropriate as it has a sequestered atmosphere and bucolic charm. It was once an old farm house and nestles among the trees, far, far from the noise and tumult of the city. The house has been completely renovated. A small parlor, entrance hall and dining room were created by erecting two partitions in the large former living room. New oak floors were laid and plaster, paint and wallpaper used to brighten the rooms. Finishing the attic resulted in two additional bedrooms and a child's playroom. A flagstone terrace by the pool is a natural setting for out-of-door living. Mrs. Fyler is shown in the picture sitting beside the pool watching her husband swim in the clear, cool water. The Fylers like to dine out of doors as noted in one of the pictures showing a rustic table and chairs placed under the trees.

A studio-guest house was built in the garden and pictures in House and Garden show the spacious living room and fireplace. The walls are pine-paneled.

The furnishings of the Fyler home reflect the ingenuity of the owners. A lamp base for instance is an old Philippine brandy bottle. Another lamp base was once a carved piano leg. Family portraits adorn the pink and white walls in the parlor. In the living room a Jean Hugo reproduction adorns the blue and white striped walls.

Miss Mary Grace Lawn and Mrs. Fay Heard of West Monroe were delightfully entertained at "Hidden Brook" last summer and brought home first hand information.

Miss June Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Lewis of this city will be off for "June Week" at Annapolis Naval Academy on May 30. She will be the guest of Midshipman Monty Frazier and will be installed at Carver Hall in company with young girls from all over the country who have been invited to enjoy the festivities in connection with "June Week." It is a thrilling experience for any girl and an invitation naturally is greatly coveted. With Midshipman Frazier as her escort Miss Lewis is assured of a wonderful time. The highlight of the week's pleasures is the prom.

We venture to say that Miss Lewis, a typical southern girl, will be one of the loveliest at the dance. She has a trunk packed with beautiful clothes and she will wear them with grace and charm.

We note with interest that Mrs. James Russell's latest book, "Land Of Evangeline," after selling a third printing will again be issued on July 15. This new addition will be larger and will contain additional pen drawings by Caroline Williams. There will also be several half tones by the same artist and other drawings by a prominent Louisiana artist. New poems will add variety and interest, states the author

Mrs. Russell is one of Monroe's most promising literarians and during the past few years has made many distinct contributions to the field of literature. One volume in particular, found on the book shelf of every literary minded person in this city is "Lantern In The Wind." Mrs. Russell is a member of the American Literary Association, The Order of Bookfellows, The Catholic Poetry Society of America. The Poetry Society of Great Britain and holds an honorary membership in the Eugene Field Society.

Welcome news this morning from Mrs. O. R. Lewis who spent the past several months at Vero Beach, Fla., for the benefit of her health. She is now much improved and with her son, Grisham, will leave this week for Hendersonville, N. C., to visit friends for a week before coming home. She and Grisham will also visit in Birmingham for a few days. They will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Vastine Stabler. Mrs. Stabler is the former Dorothy Emerson of this city.

The Little Theatre season ended in a blaze of glory insofar as brilliancy of production is concerned. "You Can't Take It With You" lived up to the promise made in the advanced publicity and will long be remembered as one of the most noteworthy performances, from a purely entertainment viewpoint, since organization. Kay Crandall did a splendid job of directing and we certainly doff our hat to her this morning.

Some of the best work offered by members of the cast, was accomplished by Joe Saragusa in the role of the impetuous Russian. He really gave an excellent performance. This young aspirant to the stage was proof positive that we're a receptive audience when there is something to laugh at. His wild gesticulations and his continual ravings supplied much of the comedy of this fast moving play. Here's hoping to see him in the near future in another vehicle as well suited to his talents as the role of Boris Kolenkhov.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Jacobs are now pleasantly established in an apartment on North Union street, Natchez, Miss., where they will reside in the future. Mrs. Jacobs is the former Miss Margaret Foag.

Mr. A. L. Smith and his attractive wife of Baton Rouge are spending considerable time in Monroe these days and are guests at the Frances hotel. It is Mr. Smith's work that brings him to Monroe.

Mrs. George Snellings returned home Saturday from Vermont where she was at the bedside of her sister, Mrs. George Hawks who has been ill for several months.

For two weeks, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. John Sherrouse and Mrs. J. J. Potts enjoyed life at one of the most beautiful hotels in the whole world, the Boco-Raton, situated on the beach between Miami and Palm Beach. This hotel was written up in Life Magazine a few months ago with a detailed description of the many wonderful features that lure Americans there year after year during the winter season. Mrs. Potts motored to Florida with her nephew, Mr. Maxwell Yerger of Mounds, La., who attended the Cottonseed Crusher's Association convention at the Boco-Raton. Mrs. Yerger was also a member of the party. Mr. Wallace was also in attendance at the convention.

Members of the Opera club are anticipating with pleasure their annual supper party at the Monroe Recreation Center. As customary each year they will entertain their husbands with a sumptuous supper and a program of music. This will be the last meeting of the Opera club until next September.

The annual summer round-up of pre-school age children is a sharp reminder to parents that vacation days are just around the corner and children who enter school in September must be permitted to have a free medical examination. Dr. W. C. Summer, director of Ouachita Parish Health Unit has completed all arrangements for the free medical examinations. Local physicians are donating their time to the health check-up. The round-up will start Monday at the Mitchell school at 11 a. m. and at the Barkdull Faulk at 2 p. m. The examinations will be held at the various schools throughout the week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Nichols are enjoying a vacation in Lake Park, Fla., as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Elliott, former residents of this city. En route they visited Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Grant, also former residents of Monroe, in Bonify, Fla. Before returning home Mr. and Mrs. Nichols will drive to other points of interest.

One of the loveliest compliments extended Miss Geneva Rountree during her engagement days was the teashower given by Mrs. E. Otis Edgerton at her home on Bayou Drive. An artistic arrangement of beautiful pink and yellow roses and other spring flowers adorned the reception rooms and added much to the pleasure of the occasion. The hostess, wearing a formal gown of aqua marine crepe, received with the honor guest, who wore a lovely gown of pale pink marquisette, lace mittens of the same shade; her corsage was bride's roses.

Mrs. W. L. Rountree, mother of the bride-elect, wore black, silver trimmed model and red rose corsage Mrs. W. B .Williams and Mrs. Maurice Ursery, mother and sister of the groom-elect, wearing black crepe models and corsages of red roses, were also in the receiving line. Mrs. Horace Lee, who presided at the guest book, wore a formal flame-colored gown. Assisting in the courtesies were Mrs. A. L. Sevier, wearing a draped gown of powder blue crepe, Mrs. J. E. Neill, a navy, and Mrs. R. L. Bailey in a printed jersey dinner gown.

Mrs. A. H. Willett, Jr., in pastel yellow and Miss Sue Buford in blue, presided at the tea table where refreshing punch, sandwiches, and individual cakes were served. Tall, pink tapers in silver candelabra and clusters of long stemmed pink radiance roses further accentuated the color theme. An antique figurine, "Sweethearts," was placed in a low bowl of sweetheart roses and sprays of deutzia.

Gifts of crystal, silver and china in the bride's chosen patterns, linens, and other articles of a miscellaneous nature were presented to the bride-elect. Over 75 guests called during the appointed receiving hours.

Miss Zagone Is Guest Of Honor At Dinner Party

One of the most beautiful prenuptial affairs of the season took place at La Casa Tea Room when Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Davidson entertained at dinner for their cousin, Miss Marie Zagone, whose marriage to Mr. Tony Lasuzza will take place early in June.

A white theme, of bridal significance, was reflected in every detail of the beautifully appointed dinner table. The flowers, from Mrs. Davidson's beautiful garden, were arranged with exceeding artistry for the floral decor. Tall white tapers burned in the midst of the flowers in the most engaging manner.

Highlighting the conversational hour following the serving of the delicious three-course, broiled chicken dinner, beautiful gifts of a miscellaneous nature were presented to Miss Zagone.

Those present, in addition to the host and hostess and their guest of honor and her fiance, Mr. Lasuzzo, were:

Mrs. Laja Caspari, Mrs. Joe Zagone, Mrs. Clyde R. Ross, Mrs. A. J. Marsala, Miss Lucile Morrison, Regenia A. Scherck, Mrs. Audie Burford, Irene Simms Reid, Mrs. Vincent Zagone, Mary Louise Fury, Miss Alethia Cole, Mary Cloud, Mrs. Mica Lisotta, Bessie Cloud, Mildred Humphrey, Marie Frickie, Cooper Watson, Eula Boyt, Lena Sciara, Neucie Rogers, Josephine Zagone, Gertrude Hays, Mrs. Abe Dreyer, Leola Orre, Mary Rhodes, Carrie Parkes, Jean Ansell, Dorothy Gold, Abe A. Gold, Paula Erdman, Ellen Haas Liebreich, Trudy M. Hart, Dr. and Mrs. Irving Wolff.

For three days, May 18, 19, 20, members of the Louisiana State Horticultural Association will combine business with pleasure when they meet in this city for their annual convention with headquarters at the Frances Hotel.

Many notables throughout the state, including Honorable Harry D. Wilson, commissioner of agriculture, and Mr. F. P. Robinson, president of the Northeast Louisiana Florists and Nurserymen's Association, will be in attendance. Mr. Henry Bernard, president of the Louisiana State Horticultural Association, will also be a prominent figure.

Luncheon on the roof of the Virginia Hotel on Monday will be one of the social features of the convention. At 2 o'clock a school of design will be conducted on the terrace of the Frances Hotel. Mrs. Thomas Bright of Chicago will conduct the school.

A steak dinner at the Rainbow Inn at 8 o'clock Monday night will complete the first day's program.

The banquet Tuesday night on the terrace of the Frances Hotel will be a brilliant event featuring a floor show. Mr. Fred E. Dent of Baton Rouge will preside as toastmaster.

Mrs. Bright, who will conduct the school during the convention, has an exceptionally colorful background. She was called upon by President Roosevelt on several occasions to arrange flowers. Just recently she had the pleasure of designing leis for the governor of Hawaii. They were delivered by air mail. At the recent International Flower Show in Chicago Mrs. Bright won the gold medal presented by the American Carnation Society.

MRS. E. K. REEVES, JR.

Mrs. Reeves, a bride of recent date, who will be remembered as Miss Eloise Ford. The marriage was an interesting event taking place recently at the First Baptist Church.

"OUR time is a very shadow that passeth away." So said Solomon. The Veterans of Foreign Wars recognizes this truth and dedicates its entire energies to make OUR TIME a time of Peace on Earth, Good Will toward men.

Silenced is mortal combat. And those who returned, now veterans, are solid citizens blazing their paths in this postwar world. But there ARE those who need help. So in this year of the 26th Annual Buddy Poppy sale, the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States asks all Americans to join in reaffirming the V. F. W. pledge to "Honor the dead by helping the living." Never has that pledge had more significance. Never have the people of the United States been more aware of veterans' welfare. We shall dispel the lurking shadows which threaten those who were wounded mentally or physically, their widows and their orphans.

In 1946, more than 15 million Americans pinned Buddy Poppies on their spring dresses and suits. All collections were made by volunteer workers. Every sale was clearly earmarked for:

(1) The relief of disabled, needy veterans and their dependents.

(2) Orphans of veterans in the V. F. W. National Home, Eaton Rapids, Michigan.

(3) Rehabilitation services for veterans in their dealings with the Veterans Administration.

(4) Hospitalization expenses of non-compensated veterans.

(5) An emergency fund for use in the event of national disaster.

This year there are more living veterans of all wars than there were Buddy Poppies sold last year. Since V-E Day, over 14 million men of World War II have become veterans. There are also some 3 million veterans of World War I, Spanish-American War, and Civil War. You honor each and every one of these heroes when you wear a Buddy Poppy.

So America's traditional "Flower of Remembrance," the Buddy Poppy of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, is an accepted symbol of our loyalty to those who, emerging from the shadows, bravely face physical and economic handicaps.

Be fashionable, and patriotic, too. Wear a Buddy Poppy proudly. Your contribution for a Buddy Poppy will be a lasting, living tribute to our war wounded, their widows and their orphans.

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

February 10, 1947

My dear Commander:

The VFW sale of Buddy Poppies is a worthy reminder that the welfare of veterans and their families is of continuing importance.

Supported by this annual poppy sale, the VFW National Home at Eaton Rapids, Michigan is performing a splendid work in behalf of the orphaned children of veterans.

The wearing of a Buddy Poppy this year is an excellent way to express approval and participation.

Very sincerely yours,

Harry Truman

"And beause iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold. But he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved." Matthew 24:12-13.

Too many of us become satisfied with ourselves and the lives we are living. We congratulate ourselves on our accomplishments, exaggerate our virtues and ignore our faults. When we reach this state of mind, we are no longer progressing or going forward; neither are we at a standstill. Instead we are on the decline; we are retrogressing.

We have no possible way of knowing how complete, or how incomplete, our salvation will be until we stand before our Heavenly Father at the Great Judgment.

Let us continue to strive to live better lives and to recognize our faults and overcome them. May our faith be strengthened so that we will be among those to endure to the end.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend our worship services. Our friendly handclasps will make you want to come again.

The Second seven weeks tell the story:

Ready to Grow

This chick has had a good start . . . it's well developed and ready to grow! But whether or not it makes a profit for its owner depends on the care and the rations it gets during the second seven weeks. A growing bird at this point actually requires twice as much dry feed as a cow in relation to weight! Grain and green range frequently contain but few of the rich feed elements these birds need—but grain plus Staley GROWER ATOMS provides a practical, all-around ration that's chock-full of "get-up-and-grow" nourishment!

3½ to 4 Lb. Broiler or Pullet

How soon you have broilers to sell and pullets well on their way to the laying house depends greatly upon the rations you feed to growing birds. Because Staley GROWER ATOMS are so appetizing and so chock-full of vital ingredients, birds fed ATOMS with home-grown grain often seem to eat more, do better—usually develop into plump, profitable 3½ to 4 lb. broilers and pullets like this one at 14 weeks or even less, under average conditions and with normal care.

...This is the Time to Switch to Grower Atoms

NOTE: IF YOU WERE UNABLE TO OBTAIN STALEY CHICK ATOMS when you purchased your chicks, it's doubly important that you switch to Staley GROWER ATOMS just as soon as chicks are a full seven weeks old. Notice how birds "perk up" when you put them on an ATOMS ration . . . how they clean up those ATOMS right down to the last bite-size morsel. You'll find that birds are so easy to switch to ATOMS . . . and that ATOMS certainly help to build sturdy, healthy, 3½ to 4 lb. broilers and pullets at 14 weeks.*

THE Bite-Size FEED THAT'S SPECIALLY MADE FOR GROWING BIRDS DURING THE CRITICAL PERIOD FROM 7 TO 14 WEEKS

YOU can have sturdy pullets large enough to insure early egg production . . . plump 3½-to-4 lb. broilers . . . at 14 weeks* —if you switch to Staley GROWER ATOMS just as soon as chicks are a full 7 weeks old!

The Critical Period

The second 7 weeks is the critical stage in a chick's growth. That's when growing birds develop from immature chicks to sturdy, husky pullets and broilers.

Too often folks pay good money for chicks . . . start them out on good starting feeds . . . then, when birds are 6 or 7 weeks old, turn them out to forage for themselves. Too often these same folks wonder why their flocks "just don't do well."

They Need Atoms!

Grain and green range frequently contain but few of the rich elements growing birds need. But grain plus Staley GROWER ATOMS provides a practical, all-round ration that's chock-full of the nourishing ingredients required for swift growth and good health.

The kind of flock you want to raise . . . the kind that will pay you extra profits . . . won't develop just by accident. Growing birds require the right food in the proper form during the critical second 7 weeks.

Atoms Are Appetizing

Yes . . . birds just naturally seem to "go for" these bite-size, grain-shape feed morsels! Compare a handful of ATOMS with a handful of mash or pellets and you'll see why—there's all the difference in the world between old fashioned feeds and these new, bite-size, irregular-shape particles!

Water is Cheap and Healthful

A growing bird's body is composed of 55% water! That's why ordinary drinking water is one of the most important parts of your ration—and the least expensive!

Staley's GROWER ATOMS are especially designed to promote thirst . . . to induce chicks to drink deeply and frequently . . . to help them build husky bodies from clear, pure water and good feed!

Chicks Clean Up Atoms

Staley GROWER ATOMS are economical—cost no more than pellets. And they actually save you money on feed because there's so little waste—birds "clean up" GROWER ATOMS right down to the last, bite-size morsel!

Used by Thousands

Staley GROWER ATOMS were used with outstanding success by thousands of poultry raisers all over the middlewest last spring. This year Staley ATOMS are accepted everywhere as the new, modern, efficient way to feed poultry for top production!

* Under average conditions and with normal care.

TERRY AND THE PIRATES

by GEORGE WUNDER 5-18

Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.
Copyright, 1947, by News Syndicate Co., Inc.

THE NATIVE LEADERS IN THE OIL PROVINCES WILL HAVE RECEIVED MY MESSAGE BY NOW. THEY AWAIT ONLY MY COMING TO SET THE SPARK OF REVOLT. IT IS IMPERATIVE THAT I JOIN THEM — AT ONCE.
IF I TRAVEL BY CAR I MAY BE STOPPED AND QUESTIONED AT THE GENDARMERS' ROAD BLOCKS. THEREFORE, YOUNG LEE MUST BE PERSUADED TO FLY ME TO MY RENDEZVOUS.
FOR A KISS FROM ME, MOST PILOTS WOULD FLY THE DEVIL HIMSELF TO HIS FRONT GATE; BUT TERRY IS A DIFFICULT YOUNG MAN. AT OUR LAST ENCOUNTER, HE WAS DISGUSTINGLY IMPERVIOUS TO MY VERY BEST BLANDISHMENTS.
WE HAVEN'T THE TIME FOR YOUR USUAL TACTICS WITH THE MALE SEX, MY DEAR. WE SHALL UTILIZE A MORE DIRECT METHOD.
I DON'T WANT TERRY LEE HURT!
YOU SURPRISE ME, MY PET. DON'T TELL ME YOU ENTERTAIN AN AFFECTION FOR THIS, NO DOUBT, GLAMOROUS YOUNG FOOL?
MMM — I DON'T KNOW. HE DID TRY TO TURN ME OVER TO THE CHINESE POLICE, BUT HE WAS SO SWEET ABOUT IT.
I SEE. WELL, YOUR YOUNG GALAHAD NEED NOT HAVE A HAIR OF HIS HEAD HURT — IF HE IS SENSIBLE. NOW, LISTEN CLOSELY — HERE IS WHAT YOU'RE TO DO...
LATER, AT PAT RYAN'S OFFICE...
ANY WORD YET ON OUR PLAYMATE'S ACTIVITIES?
NONE AT ALL, TERRY, AND I'M WORRIED. I HAVE A MAN WATCHING ERMINE'S FLAT AND HE REPORTS THAT THE FAT LAD HAS VISITED HER SEVERAL TIMES, BUT WE STILL HAVEN'T BEEN ABLE TO FIND OUT WHAT THEY'RE UP TO. I'LL GIVE THEM A LITTLE MORE TIME.
IN THAT CASE, PAT, GUESS WE'LL TAKE OFF. IF ANYTHING TURNS UP, LET US KNOW... SEE YOU LATER.
HERE THEY ARE NOW, MY DEAR — GOOD LUCK.

OH-H-H! IT WAS BRONKO! I-I SAW HIM! HE DID IT DELIBERATELY!
THAT'S THE FIRST ONE! I'LL GET 'EM ALL BEFORE I GET THROUGH! I'LL TEACH THOSE "CRIME STOPPERS" TO STICK THEIR NOSES INTO MY BUSINESS!
HE WON'T BE DELIVERING ANY GROCERIES ON THAT BICYCLE VERY SOON — AND HE WON'T BE SNOOPIN' ON ME ANY MORE!
A HIT AND RUN DRIVER, EH, KID? DID YOU GET HIS NUMBER? DO YOU KNOW WHO HE WAS?
NO — IT HAPPENED SO SUDDENLY.
LET'S GO INTO A DRUGSTORE. A LITTLE FIRST AID WILL FIX ME UP.
FIRST AID?
BRONKO! WHEN ARE YOU COMING IN? IT'S PAST SUPPER TIME.
GO AHEAD AND EAT. I'VE GOT SOME WORK TO DO IN MY PIGEON LOFT.
I'VE GOT TO HAVE SOME DOUGH. THERE'S A COUPLE OF GUM MACHINES UP HERE I HAVEN'T YET CRACKED.
THOSE SISSIES'LL NEVER FIND OUT WHERE I HIDE MY STUFF. THIS PIGEON LOFT IS PERFECT. EVEN MY MA DON'T SUSPECT.
AND AT HEADQUARTERS.
JUNIOR, I NEVER GAVE YOU ANY AUTHORITY TO GET MIXED UP IN TROUBLE. WHAT IS THIS ALL ABOUT?
JUST AN ACCIDENT, TRACY.
VEAH? IT ISN'T LIKE YOU TO MISS A CAR LICENSE NUMBER. YOU'RE GETTING A LITTLE SOFT, AREN'T YOU?
I WON'T SQUEAL, EVEN TO TRACY! WE "CRIME STOPPERS" HAVE GOT TO WORK THIS THING OUT OURSELVES.
IF THOSE "CRIME STOPPERS" EVER STICK THEIR NOSES UP HERE — I'LL BREAK EVERY BONE IN THEIR BODIES —
EXCUSE ME, TRACY, BUT B.O. PLENTY'S IN HERE AND HE WANTS TO HAVE A WORD WITH YOU.

··· BUT LAST NIGHT I DRAINED THE OIL AND FILLED TH' TANK WITH GAS-OLINE AND POKED HOLES IN THE EXHAUST RING!

···THEN I CUT THE COPPER TUBE AN' BENT IT SO THAT WHEN HE PULLS THE CONTROL THAT OPENS THE OIL VALVE FOR HIS ACT···

··RAW GAS WILL HIT TH' RED HOT EXHAUST RING INSIDE THE ENGINE NACELLE ···THEN BOOM! HE'LL NEVER EXPOSE ME TO SABLE!

THE FIELD PASS

BLACK CAT-BARNEY

SABLE'S DAD WROTE HIS WILL SO THAT HIS FORTUNE GOES TO SABLE IF SHE OUTLIVES HER AUNT CARLOTTA, OR TO CARLOTTA IF SABLE DIES FIRST!

CARLOTTA RAISED SABLE BUT ALWAYS TOLD HER THAT SHE WAS A COWARDLY AND SICKLY CHILD!···

···IN THE HOPES THAT THE MENTAL TORTURE WOULD KEEP SABLE SO BEDRIDDEN THAT SHE'D EVENTUALLY DIE···

IT DID MAKE SABLE A WEAK COWARD, BUT LAST YEAR SHE INHERITED SOME MONEY FROM A GRANDMA AND RAN AWAY FROM CARLOTTA!

THE FIELD PASS

NOW SABLE'S DOING EVERYTHING DANGEROUS TO TRY TO OVERCOME HER FEARS AND PHOBIAS!

WHEN BLACK-CAT CRASHES IT'LL BE A BLOW TO HER NERVES··· THEN I'M GONNA START LEAVING PICTURES OF HORRIBLE CRASHES IN HER OFFICE!

BLACK CAT'S FLYING HIS ACT

···OF COURSE, IF THIS PSYCHOLOGICAL MURDER DOESN'T WORK, THERE'S ALWAYS THE DRASTIC METHODS!

THE FIELD PASS

AFTER SABLE IS GONE AN' CARLOTTA GET'S TH' FORTUNE I'LL MARRY HER AS BARGAINED AND THEN···

··· I DON'T CARE WHAT METHOD I HAVE TO USE TO BUMP OFF THAT BIG COIN, TO GET ALL HER DOUGH!

ST. LOUIS AIR-FAIR FINALE MAY-18

ZACK MOSLEY

MAY-18

BLACK-CAT BARNEY WILL NOW DO HIS SMOKE ACT

G'BYE, BLACK CAT··· NEXT'LL BE SABLE, THEN CARLOTTA··· THAT MEANS THREE PEOPLE I HAFTA GET RID OF TO GET IN TH' HIGH BRACKETS!
